Pope Seeks Social Shift

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI)—Pope Paul VI, standing in a cow pasture before hundreds of thousands of ragged peasants, today called on governments and wealthy classes to create peacefully a "more just and efficient social arrangement" for the world.

The pontiff warned, however, that seeking social change through violent revolution "is contrary to the Christian spirit and can also delay instead of advancing that social uplifting."

The Pope chose a 60-acre pasture northwest of this capital for the site of his meeting with Colombia's peasants and the delivery of his social reform message, considered the high point of the first papal visit to Latin America.

He flew 17 miles to the pasture in a white, twin-motor helicopter, leaving Bogota shortly after meeting privately with President Carlos Lleras Restrepo, his cadinet and their families in the plush presidential palace.

The spectacle in the cow pasture was in vivid contrast.

Peasants who greeted him with shouts of "Viva el Papa" had come by truck, burro and on foot from hundreds of miles around.

Shacks of cardboard and tar paper dotted the pasture, homes of those who had arrived earlier in the week and waited through the misty days and freezing nights for the Pope's arrival. Men wore ponchos over ragged work clothes as protection against weather that last night dropped the temperature to 30 degrees.

Police said they were unable to estimate the multitude other than to say it was several hundred thousand strong. Approximately one million had been expected.

Hitting hard at the social ills that affect Latin America specifically, the Pope called for and end to wide class and economic separations and the violent form of revolution that is a way of political life in this continent of 245 million. He did

Jury Finds Herrera Is Guilty

By ALAN JONES

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday found Joaquin Antonio Herrera guilty of first-degree murder for the Jan. 9 slaying of Ronald Lee Washburn in San Rafael.

Herrera, a short and slightly built native of El Salvador, heard the verdict with no show of emotion.

The jury reached its verdict in 5 hours and 10 minutes, signaling the bailiff at 3:15 p.m.

Defense attorney Harold J. Truett asked that the jury be polled and each of the 12 members, asked if their verdict was guilty, replied "yes."

Judge Joseph G. Wilson ordered the trial recessed until 10 a.m. Sept. 4, when the same jury will take up the sanity and

Uprising Only Way Out, Asserts Leader

By FRANK FARRARA

Eldridge Cleaver, presidential nominee of the Peace and Freedom Party, said last night his nomination was a symbol of the "profound dissent" over "what's going on" in the United States.

Stokely Carmichael, prime minisiter of the Black Panther Party for Self Defense, last night saw the United States "on the brink" of a black revolution.

Cleaver and other top leaders of the Black Panther Party for Self Defense spoke at a three-and-a-half hour rally before a standing room audience of more than 500 persons at the Manzanita Center at Marin City.

Black people in the U.S. are colonized and have to break out of a capitalistic society which is oppressive, he told an audience of about 500 persons at the Manzanita Cetner in Marin City.

The event, sponsored by both parties, marked the organization of a Marin City chapter of the Black Panthers and was another in a series of rallies to free Huey P. Newton.

Newton, founder of the Black Panther party and its minister of defense, is on trial in Oakland, charged with the murder of an Oakland police officer.

The large turnout, about 20 per cent white, was to hear Cleaver, his wife, Kathleen, Bobby Seale, party chairman, Al Lowry of Homestead Valley, representing the Peace and Freedom Party, and Stokely Carmichael, prime minister of the Black Panther Party.

There was a sprinkling of buttons which read, "Free Huey," "Black Power," and "Cleaver

He issued a call to arms and predicted a long hard fight, "a fight of a generation," during which black people will have to integrate fighting into their way of life.

U.S. Center At Da Nang Under Seige

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong commandos today attacked the huge U.S. military center at Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, rocketing the Allied air terminal and occupying a village just south of the base runways.

"This has to be a suicide attack," a U.S. Marine officer said. "The Communists have no support and no chance of making it out of here alive."

The heaviest fighting was around the village of Cam Le, which was 60 per cent destroyed when caught in the crossfire of Allied ground and air assaults against the attackers.

A number of villagers were killed or wounded and hundreds left homeless in the fighting.

CAMP PENDELTON — Marine Pfc. John Robinson, one of nine servicement who chained themselves together in Marin City July 17 and said they were "resigning," has been given a bad conduct discharge.

Robinson, of Westport, Conn., was sentenced also to six months at hard labor and forfeiture of two-thirds of his pay for that time.

Marine officials wouldn't comment further on the sentence. When Robinson was found guilty Aug. 9 of disobeying military regulations, about 50 sympathizers demonstrated outside the base gate.

Officials said a dozen persons demonstrated without incident after the sentencing yesterday.

Robinson and eight other servicemen were arrested by military police at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church after three days of demonstrations and religious services there and in Howard Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

One of the servicemen told reporters that he and the other AWOL servicemen had met in a coffee shop at Howard Presbyterian for several months because the church is headquarters for the War Resistors League in San Francisco.

Robinson is the first to have military punishment dealt out to him. The others are in various stages of trails for offenses ranging from AWOL to the more serious charge of desertion.

Air Force Sgt. Oliver Hirsh, 21, of Allentown, Pa., is the only one to be tried in Marin County. A hearing officer at Hamilton Air Force Base has recommended that desertion charges against him be reduced to an AWOL charge.

Hirsh has been confined at Hamilton awaiting decision by the commanding officer as to whether he is to be court-martialed.

Three Army men, Charles Jones, 20, of Fernandina Beach, Fla., George Dounis, 23, of Atlanta, Ga., and Keith Mather, 21, of San Bruno have had pretrial hearings and were charged with desertion and disobedience of a lawful order.

Dates for their court martials should be set soon, according to the public information office at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Two other soldiers, James Seymour of Deer Park, N. Y., and Steve Anderson, 17, of Las Vegas, Nev., imprisoned at Fort Ord, have been charged with the same offenses and are also

Texans May Put LBJ Back In Race

Unit Rule Squabble Erupts

CHICAGO (UPI)—Texas Democrats today raised the possibility of re-nominating President Johnson at next week's national convention.

Frank C. Erwin Jr., Texas' Democratic National Committeeman and a leader of the 104-vote Texas delegation, said Texans might do this if the convention's Rules Committee abolishes the unit rule.

Appearing before the committee, Erwin said that the possibility of re-nominating Johnson "is not a threat." But he said that if the convention refused to let Texas cast its entire 104 votes for Gov. John Connally as its favorite son, a number of delegates felt Connally should withdraw.

If this happened, Erwin said, "Texas should ask some state early in the roll call to yield to give us the opportunity to nominate another great Texan who now holds the highest office in the land."

Erwin did not elaborate about what Texas would do if the 92-year-old unit rule was tossed out as Hubert H. Humphrey, Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern have proposed. (See also page 6.)

But Will Davis, Texas state chairman, told reporters later that Erwin's report could be taken seriously.

Erwin's testimony before the Rules Committee was growing evidence of disenchantment on the part of some southerners—and particularly Texas dele-

Czechs Stage Brief Strike, Defy Invaders

Leader Flown To Moscow; Is Dubcek Alive?

PRAGUE (AP) — Sirens and bells set off a one-hour general strike across Czechoslovakia today to protest the Russian-led military occupation and the political threat to Prague's liberal government.

While President Ludwik Svoboda flew to Moscow for a showdown at the Kremlin, workers downed tools and border guards barred frontier highways from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in response to a call by an extraordinary congress of the Czechoslovak Communist party.

SHOTS HEARD

The crackle of small-arms fire broke out briefly in the noon hour as edgy Soviet troops apparently reacted to open Czechoslovak hostility to their present. It was not determined whether anyone had been hit. The morning had been quiet; the city calm.

While little more than a luncheon break gesture, the strike symbolized a spirit of resistance to the foreign divisions and support for the reformist leadership of Alexander Dubcek, the missing chief of the Czechoslovak party.

No time limit was specified for the strike in the Czech Communist Party's original announcement yesterday, leaving the implication of a walkout of unlimited duration. But, while that would have annoyed the invaders, it would have meant hardships for the Czechoslovak people and somebody decided to cut it short.

OFFICIAL ESCAPES

Though occupation troops and pro-Soviet Czechoslovak police made further arrests, Communist party secretary Cestmir Cisar was reported by the clandestine Radio Prague to have escaped from Soviet captivity. It said he was being sheltered by pro-Dubcek resistance groups.

Dubcek's own whereabouts since his seizure by Soviet troops in the immediate aftermath of Tuesday night's invasion remained a mystery.

Condition Of Ike Is Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today some "encouraging" signs in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition, but said it is still critical and the question of whether he will survive will remain unpredictable for some time.

The doctors, at Walter Reed Army Hospital, gave this appraisal in a formal medical bulletin which was later amplified in response to questions submitted by reporters.

The formal bulletin said that Eisenhower has shown less evidence of heart irritability—irregular and rapid beats—since Thursday night's report and that "while this in itself is en-

Sommerhalder Jury To See Gun Photos

By STEPHEN COOK

The significance of the fact that Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, accused of double murder, was captured amidst an arsenal of guns was debated in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

At issue were photographs of loaded guns found in the Santa Rosa shack where Sommerhalder, his co-defendant Kenneth Allen Preston and two other men were arrested after a shootout with police early Jan. 14.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner ruled that the photographs of the arsenal may be shown to the jury of seven men and five women, who must decide whether Sommerhalder killed gun collector Curtis Ackley and his wife Shirley Jan. 12.

"If these guys kept themselves armed to the teeth, then the jury should be able to draw some inference from that," Judge Gardiner said after a hearing in chambers yesterday.

Jerome C. Durham, Sommerhalder's attorney, reminded the judge that Ackley, too, kept a number of guns in his house.

"If he were accused of a crime, that might be relevant," Judge Gardiner said. "Most sportsmen keep their guns locked in cabinets, not lying around the house, on beds and against the living room wall."

This morning's session of the trial, like the one yesterday afternoon, was consumed by the

Olympic Torch

OLYMPIA, Greece (UPI) — The Olympic torch was lighted today and a Greek athlete ran with it on the first leg of a trip half-way round the world to Mexico City for the 1968 Olympic Games in October.

Sprinter Cahris Aivaliotis received the torch from an actress portraying the ancient Greek goddess Hera as thousands of spectators watched in the ruins of the stadium where the ancients originated the games.

Hydrogen Bomb Test

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UPI) — France hoped to stage its first test of a hydrogen bomb today at a Pacific atoll 800 miles from Papeete.

Yesterday, for the fourth time, poor weather conditions forced postponement of the blast.

Welcome Home

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Ralph M. Johnson, a brakeman for the Great Northern Railway, left on a railway run to Minneapolis-St. Paul Wednesday night. When he returned yesterday afternoon, he found that a parking meter had been installed where his car was parked and an overtime parking ticket put on the car.

The violation later was voided.

Russ Plane Crashes

VIENNA (AP) — The Czechoslovak radio reported today that a Soviet transport plane crashed during the night at the city of Budejovice and "there were many dead and injured" among the Soviets on it.

The wounded were taken to a Czechoslovak hospital and the doctors there were administering blood transfusions, the broadcast added. Shortly thereafter, Soviet soldiers reported to the hospital to donate blood.

Court Martial Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attorney for Air Force Capt. Dale E. Noyd, convicted of refusing to train fighter pilots for Vietnam, argued yesterday that the number of war veterans on the court martial panel made it impossible for Noyd to receive a fair trial.

Marvin Karpatkin, carrying Noyd's appeal before a military review board, said eight of the 10 officers who sat in judgment had returned recently from Vietnam. He said, "They would have to be superhuman to avoid leaning toward the prosecution side."

Young Inmates

WASHINGTON (AP) — About half the inmates of federal prisons are young convicts from 17 to 28 years old.

Myrl E. Alexander, director of the Bureau of Prisons, voiced concern over the increase in young violators yesterday as he reported the number of prisoners had begun to rise after a six-year decline.

No Funds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The City Council has turned down a proposal to employ up to 2,000 unskilled jobless adults in public works projects, such as cleaning up the city.

Before the rejection yesterday, City Administrative Officer C. Erwin Piper said hiring 1,600 persons would cost about $11.7 million a year and no such funds are available in the city's budget, already in the red.

Gang Fight

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — Police say a teen-ager was killed with a shotgun blast in the chest and a companion beaten with a tire iron in a dispute among members of a motorcycle gang.

Officers said Earl McPherson, 18, was shot by the leader of four unidentified men who barged into a residence yesterday. The other three bludgeoned Michael Fairfield.

Kidney Transplant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 126th patient to undergo a successful kidney transplant at the University of California Medical Center was Miss California of 1955.

Barbara Jane Porter, 33, now a Santa Cruz housewife, was termed in good condition yesterday.

Married

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Alice Low of San Francisco and former U.S. Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks were married in an afternoon Swedenborgian Church.

The couple attended a reception in their honor after the wedding and departed for Lancaster, N.H., home of the groom. A honeymoon trip was delayed.

The bride is the widow of Adm. Francis S. Low.

Mine Flood Cause

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Mines has blamed outdated and inaccurate maps for the mine-wall breakthrough that caused an underground flash flood, killing four men and trapping 21 others near Hominy Falls, W. Va., last May.

The bureau reported yesterday the men did not realize how near they were to an adjacent flooded mine. It said the miners' maps were old and included at least one surveying error.

Fifteen men were trapped for five days after the mine accident May 6. Six other miners, given up for dead, were rescued after a week and a half underground.

Volcano Blast

HILO, Hawaii (UPI) — Volcano experts today kept a sharp eye on a prehistoric crater that came to life yesterday for five hours with a surprise shower of fireworks, for the first time in recorded history.

Scientists at the U.S. Geological Survey Observatory overlooking Hiiake crater also maintained a careful watch on their battery of earthquake and volcano instruments for indications of another eruption on the forested plateau 30 miles south of this 26,000 population city on the island of Hawaii.

Police Rush In . . .

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty, hearing a noise, opened the door to his outer office yesterday and three police officers carrying guns rushed in. It was a mistake: Painters had accidentally tripped a silent burglar alarm.

Rocket Soars

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — A rocket designed to measure high frequency radiation from the constellation Scorpius soared 65,000 feet into space last night. A spokesman from the Atomic Energy Commission called it a success.

Third Stanford Try At Heart Operation

STANFORD (AP) — A retired postal clerk from Eugene, Ore., received the heart of a 20-year-old Marine early today in the world's 33rd human heart transplant operation, the third at the Stanford University Medical Center.

Leonard Drake, 42, became the 14th person living with a new heart when the four-and-one-half hour operation ended at 2 a.m.

The donor, Cpl. Larry B. Smith of Stockton, suffered from what doctors described as irreversible brain damage in an atuomobile accident Aug. 4 at Stockton.

Smith, on leave from Camp Pendleton, and due to go to Vietnam when his leave was up, died at 8:45 p.m., a medical center spokesman said. The operation began at 9:30 p.m.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, said their son volunteered three times to go to Vietnam.

"Offering his heart to save the life of another person is something he would be proud of," they said.

His eldest brother Gene suggested Larry's "strong heart be donated to give someone else a chance to live," the parents said.

"I am satisfied," a spokesman quoted Dr. Norman Shumway after the operation as saying. "Everything went as well as expected. The patient is in satisfactory condition."

Shumway led this and previous transplant teams.

Mike Kasperak, 54, a steel worker from East Palo Alto, was the first recipient at the hospital in January and lived 15 days.

A second recipient in early May, Joseph Rizor, 40, a carpenter from Salinas, lived four days.

Drake, who has suffered a heart ailment for 12 years, had worked for a year as bailiff for the Lane County District Court in Eugene after his retirement from the post office.

He was transferred to the Stanford hospital in June. Shumway had been awaiting a suitable donor since then.

The hospital has a half-dozen potential recipients, said a spokesman at the medical center news bureau, but can't get donors because the hospital handles few emergency cases.

The drakes have two children, Vicky, 11, and Jimmy, 10.

Communist China Greets Plane With Songs, Dances

HONG KONG (UPI)—Twenty-four Americans told today how they were serenaded by Red Guards when their airliner made an unscheduled stop in Communist China last night.

The American tourists and 30 other passengers aboard a Royal Air Cambodia DC6 got their glimpse of Red China when the plane was diverted to Canton on a flight from Phnom Penh, Cambodia, to Hong Kong. The flight was waved away from Hong Kong's Kai Tak airport when a Japan Air Lines jetliner became stuck on the runway.

The JAL jet's port side tires burst on landing.

James Carroll, one of the travelers aboard the Cambodian plane, said the Americans "became very excited" when they learned the plane was landing in China.

Their fears were put to rest somewhat after the plane landed, he said, when Chinese "in shabby uniforms" came aboard and spoke cheerfully to the passengers. The Americans were told they would be permitted to get off the plane but must remain in the airport terminal.

The passengers were escorted to the airport's "cultural center" where they were shown displays of books by Chairman Mao Tse-tung. An impromptu song and dance show was organized, Carroll said, consisting of Communist propaganda set to music by youthful Red Guards.

The Cambodian plane spent about 90 minutes on the ground before flying to Hong Kong last night.

Ross Council Adopts Budget, Sets Tax Rate

In the first meeting of its 61st year of incorporation, the Ross Town Council last night took just 45 minutes to adopt a $246,073 budget for 1968-69, set the tax rate at $1.67 per $100 assessed valuation and approve a 5 per cent city employee salary increase.

In opening the meeting, Mayor Frederick S. Allen reminded the council and audience of one that Wednesday had marked the 60th anniversary of the Town of Ross.

Allen then moved for adoption of the tax rate, up 5 cents from last year. The motion passed unanimously without discussion. The tax rate includes $1.10 for local government, 30 cents for parks, 9 cents for retirement and 18 cents for drains and flood control.

Following a quick reading of the proposed budget, it was approved, also unanimously and without discussion. The new budget is up $55,205 from last year's $190,868. It includes provisions for a $10,000 surplus and a $15,750 capital expenditures reserve fund.

Property tax revenues are expected to increase to $162,307 this year as compared to $144,358 for last year. The gain is based on an assessed valuation increase of 7.6 per cent plus the higher tax rate.

In approving the 5 per cent cost of living increase for town employees, Allen noted that it is somewhat lower than other cities in Marin.

"I don't think that Ross needs to go along with the Joneses on everything," Councilman W. James Dawson commented, adding that he had no objections to the increase. "Their (town employees) money is made up by overtime," he said, noting the two-man fire department.

A motion making the pay raise retroactive to Aug. 1 also passed unanimously.

Money Find Given To Police

Robert H. Turner of Sacramento now knows it isn't just in movies that people find large sums of money in phone booths.

He turned over to San Rafael police yesterday a wallet containing $670 cash, plus 130 in traveler's checks, he found in a wallet in the phone booth at the Shell service station, Third and Irwin streets, shortly before 10 a.m.

Police said they had traced the purchaser of the traveler's checks through a Seattle bank and were attempting to contact him today. The purchaser was identified as Don Stevenson of Mill Valley.

Filing Deadline Near For District Elections

Nine seats on the governing boards of four special districts in Marin are up for election in November, and the deadlines for candidates to file nomination papers for them fall early next month.

The four districts are the Marin Hospital District, Bolinas Harbor District, Strawberry Recreation District and Terra Linda Recreation and Park District.

In the hospital district, the terms of two directors are expiring: board president George E. Croke and vice president Gwendolyn M. Campion. The deadline to file nomination papers at the hospital administrator's office is 5 p.m. Sept. 1, according to the district's public relations consultant, Jules Becker.

In the harbor district, the terms of two directors are expiring: president Gene W. McDaniel and vice president Thomas R. Tawns. McDaniel said he will not run again, and Tawns said he expects to seek a second term.

The deadline to file papers in the harbor district is 5 p.m. Sept. 6 at the district office in Stinson Beach, Tawns said.

In the recreation district, the terms of two directors are expiring at the end of the year: George C. Lopes and James K. Garner. Both are expected to file for reelection, reported district counsel Stephen H. Kaufmann.

The deadline to file papers is 5 p.m. Sept. 7, Kaufmann said, and they must be filed with the district clerk, Mrs. Jeanne R. Heick, at her home, 139 Belvedere Drive.

In the recreation and park district, the terms of three directors are expiring this year: John A. Colistra, Vernon H. Nicholson and Elroy S. Munson. Colistra and Nicholson have taken out nomination papers, reported Gen. Mgr. Jacqueline O'Dwyer.

The deadline to file papers is 5 p.m. Sept. 6, and can be done only at the county clerk's office in the County Courthouse, San Rafael, she said.

The number of signatures required varies from district to district. The hospital district requires at least 20 and the harbor district not less than 25 nor more than 50. Both the Strawberry Recreation District and the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District require not less than five nor more than 10.

The signatures must be by voters registered in the district concerned.

There are no filing fees in the four district elections, the county elections office reported.

Elections officials also reported that Sept. 12 is the deadline for candidates to apply to the county clerk for an index of registered voters in their districts.

Marin City Shots Leave One In Critical Condition

Felled by three bullets, Frederick Washington, 23, of 15 Cole Drive, Marin City, was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital following a shooting in Marin City.

Washington was still in surgery at 11 a.m. today. A doctor said he had bullets in the stomach, the left lung area and the left arm.

Lawmen questioned Gabe Jackson, 32, of 732 Drake Avenue, about the shooting, but Jackson was not held. Jackson said that he and Washington had argued over money Washington took from him, that Washington threw a knife at him and that he fired at Washington.

Jackson was one of several men, most of them wearing black berets and black leather jackets, who took Washington to the hospital.

Jackson's a community worker for the Sausalito School District and a former member of the Marin City Community Services District Board.

Officials learned of the shooting when California Highway Patrolman Richard D. Treadwell pulled over a speeding car at approximately 2:40 a.m. on Highway 101 near Marin City. The driver, reported to be a Brian Beard, told him he was rushing a shooting victim to the hospital, and Treadwell followed the car to Marin General Hospital and questioned some of the men, including Jackson.

Sheriff's deputies investigating later found what appeared to be bloodstains in the area of Cole Drive and Drake Avenue in Marin City, where Washington's car was found.

Youths Suspected Of Glue Sniffing

Two 17-year-old San Rafael boys were cited to the county probation department after police found them on a San Rafael hillside after what had apparently been a glue-sniffing episode, police report.

Police said officers responding to a phone complaint at 5:40 p.m. found the boys in a grove of trees on a hillside across from 147 Ross Street. One was lying on the ground and the other was standing, officers said, and two empty glue tubes were on the ground.

Five more candidates have applied for the vacant trustee post on the Marin Junior College District board, Theodore C. Wellman, board president, announced today.

Candidates now number 10.

Firms Offer To Pay For Keys Dredging

Five loan firms financing development at Bel Marin Keys in Novato will put up the approximately $65,000 needed to dredge the keys' lagoon, it was reported today.

Joan Wrightsman, publicity chairman of the Bel Marin Keys Community Services district, said the offer was made last night at a meeting of several area organizations at the Bel Marin Keys sales office.

The loan companies, now financing dredging of the channel between the lagoon and the Petaluma River at a cost of $12,000, asked that the services district call for bids and handle details of financing, Mrs. Wrightsman said.

The district cannot spend taxpayers money on the Novato Creek side of the development because it comes under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Marin County Flood Control District. However, if the services district can get corps and county permission, it can spend the money from the loan firms, she said.

The services district is holding a special election Tuesday to increase the tax limit from the present $1 to $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, but last night's offer should not affect the election because the money will be needed in the future, Mrs. Wrightsman said.

Eureka Savings and Loan Association of Eureka, Midvalley Savings and Loan Association of Marysville, Lassen Savings and Loan Association of Chico, McAlester Savings and Loan Association of San Francisco and Silvergate Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles made the offer, Mrs. Wrightsman reported.

Why Not Pig For President?

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of yippies (Youth International Party) and their candidate for president, a squealing, and reluctant pig, were dragged from the Civic Center Plaza and arrested today.

The yippies gathered under the mammoth Pablo Picasso statue in the plaza to unveil their Pig Party candidate. Several bearded, long-hair youths were carrying "Pig Power" and "Live High on the Hog" placards.

When the black and brown pig was led from a small station wagon, police immediately broke through the crowd and seized the group leading the howling pig, Pigasus.

There was brief scuffling before police cleared the area.

Cmdr. James Riordan said "eight or nine and the pig were taken in the patrol car. They were arrested for public nuisance, a breach of the peace."

The pig, the first candidate to be tossed into a patrol wagon this election year, was described by the yippies as an appropriate candidate because "he was born in the slums of a pig-sty, he is many colors and he is going to be slaughtered."

Pigasus was brought to Chicago from California by a group of wandering yippies.

The yippies said they feel their candidate has more going for him than any of the other candidates.

"If we can't have him in the White House," one youth said, "we can have him for breakfast."

WAR

which abated late tonight.

U.S. Marine spokesmen said 15 Leathernecks were known killed and 49 wounded in the heaviest fighting at Da Nang since the Communist Tet offensive in February. South Vietnamese government losses were described only as "light."

Communist losses were placed at 81 killed.

Some of the Communist commandos managed during the morning to reach downtown Da Nang but were driven out around noon by government troops in armored vehicles. U.S. Marines battled an estimated company of 130 Communists in suburban Cam Le in house-to-house fighting.

The U.S. military, as a result of the attack, clamped a 24-hour curfew on Vietnamese residents in Da Nang, a city of 220,000 people and urged Americans to stay off the streets. Da Nang is on the coast about 360 miles north of Saigon, the largest city.

The Da Nang offensive was only part of 50 shellings and ground attacks reported from the Mekong Delta to the northern frontier. About half of them were in the top five provinces, spokesmen said.

Liquor Banned

VIENNA (AP) — Radio Prague announced Thursday that the sale of liquor in bars and restaurants had been banned in Czechoslovakia.

testimony of James R. Wade, identification technician of the Sonoma County sheriff's office.

Wade has identified guns, jewelry and other items, allegedly stolen from the Ackley trailer house in Santa Venetia, as being items he found in the shack where Sommerhalder and Preston were arrested.

Wade said six of the guns he found in the house were fully loaded and ready to fire. Another revolver contained five empty shells and one bullet ready to be fired, he said.

Police officers, who went to the cabin at 4 a.m. Jan. 14, reported their knock on the door was greeted by a volley of four to six shots from within.

Preston, Sommerhalder's codefendant, has been tried, convicted and sentenced to death for murdering the Ackleys the night of Jan. 12 at their trailer house.

awaiting decisions about court martials.

The sailors in the group, Paul Howard, 21, of Roy, Utah, and Dale Herrin, 20, of Garland, Tex., were placed in the brig at Treasure Island, charged with desertion and willful disobedience and also await court-martial.

If the seven men charged with desertion are court martialed for that offense, they could receive sentences in a federal penitentiary, stiffer punishments than can be given for the AWOL charge.

Red Landing Error

VIENNA (AP) — A Soviet helicopter landed by mistake in this country yesterday and took off again for Czechoslovakia after the pilot was told by a farmer that he was in Austria. A brief statement issued by the Austrian Defense Ministry called the incident "just a navigational error."

CZECH

messages yesterday that Dubcek was dead. However Radio Trencin, a Czechoslovak transmitter apparently still free, broadcast a report today that he was negotiating with the Russians and was not under arrest. It said this word was given his mother, Mrs. Stefan Dubcek, 70, by the commanding Soviet general.

A broadcast from Bratislava, the Slovak capital where Dubcek reached a compromise agreement Aug. 3 with the orthodox critics of his reforms, told of plans for a silent funeral march in honor of a 17-year-old girl student killed in the occupation.

Radio Danube said the girl, whom it identified only as Wanka, was shot by Soviet soldiers Wednesday on the steps of a university building.

In the United Nations the Soviet Union early today vetoed a resolution to have the U.N. Security Council condemn the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.

It was the 105th Soviet veto in U.N. history. It came after an unprecedented precedural effort by Russia's Jacob A. Malik to delay the vote. U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball denounced the move as a "grotesque circus."

The vote on the resolution was 10-2 with 3 abstentions. Hungary and the Soviet Union voted no. The abstainers were Algeria, India and Pakistan.

Earlier Czech representative Jan Muzik pleaded with the council that the Warsaw Pact troops be removed from his country.

In reporting Cisar's escape, Radio Prague quoted him as saying he was being protected by Czech Communists and patriots and hoped he could soon resume his political functions. There were no details about where he had been held or how he got away.

President Svoboda, a moderate who commanded a Czechoslovak army that fought alongside the Russians in World War II, led a six-man delegation to a formal welcome in Moscow with the evident aim of cracking a deadlock on the composition of the Czechoslovak regime.

"Have trust in me," he urged the Czechoslovak people in a broadcast before departing. "I expect to be back tonight."

Vowing not to recognize any puppet government, he said negotiations with Soviet officials in Prague had been fruitless and he was going to Moscow for further talks.

The Kremlin hierarchy, with an estimated 200,000 Russian and other Warsaw Pact troops occupying Czechoslovakia, evidently is demanding that a new leadership take over and end the liberalization started here by Dubcek in January with the ouster of hard-liner Antonin Novotny as the party chief.

According to the still uncensored, cladestine radio, three conservative Communists have agreed to collaborate with the occupation forces.

They have been identified as Slovak party chief Vasil Bilak, Presidium member and Drahomir Kolder and Alois Indra, a secretary of the national party.

Indra and Bilak went along to Moscow with Svoboda and there was speculation that, if Svoboda returned to Prague as planned, one of them will hold a government office.

Commute Tax May Miss U.S. Employees

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The ordinance signed this week by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto to tax commuters so carefully evaded mention of a "tax" that it may have exempted thousands of federal employees who commute into San Francisco.

This was the claim today by the National Federation of Federal Employees, Local 1450.

According to the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, the federal government employs 33,800 persons in San Francisco. The commission had no estimate of how many of these are commuters.

Federal employees "are prohibited from paying any kind of fee in connection with obtaining or retaining their federal jobs," declared the union in a press release.

"Paying the proposed commuter license fee would be clearly incompatible with this longstanding restraint," it said.

The city's controversial ordinance does not mention "commuter tax," but instead imposes "license fees for the privilege of engaging in occupations, trades and professions in the City and County of San Francisco by all nonresident persons employed by others."

penalty phases of the trial.

If he is found sane, Herrera could be sentenced to die in the gas chamber or sentenced to life imprisonment.

Washburn's body was found Jan. 10 in a weedy back yard at 1704 Lincoln Avenue, next door to Herrera's residence at 1710 Lincoln.

Evidence developed in the trial indicated Herrera was convinced that Washburn had had sexual relations two years before with Kathy Bloomer, whom Herrera married in October, 1967. Herrera told several people that Washburn and others had forced Kathy to commit sex acts with them, and repeatedly said he would seek to bring them to justice for their actions.

Washburn was killed execution-style, with one bullet throught the heart and three through the head.

couraging, the general's over-all condition must still be considered critical" and the outlook as to whether or not he will survive this attack remains "guarded"—meaning unpredictable and uncertain.

One of the questions submitted by newsmen was as follows:

"Would the 'immediate critical period' for the general's present type of heart attack—ventricular fibrillation—normally be expected to last longer than the week's period you have said in past statements generally constitutes the immediate critical period following a myocardial infarction? If so, how much longer?"

"Cannot as yet be determined," was the doctors' answer.

"Is it likely or possible that he will be removed from the critical list anytime soon?"

The answer was "No."

The report was issued as Eisenhower was within hours of completing the first week since he was stricken with his seventh attack last Friday.

Girl, 21, Reports Being Attacked In Lucas Valley

A 21-year-old hippie girl from the Morningstar Ranch in Sonoma County told sheriff's deputies she was raped Wednesday night in Lucas Valley after being picked up hitchhiking.

The girl said she was on her way north on Highway 101 when a man picked her up and drove her over back roads to a spot near Big Rock Ranch off Lucas Valley Road. He then pulled a pistol, forced her to disrobe and raped her, she said.

He then took $11 from her clothes, let her dress and forced her out of a car. The girl was found shortly after 9 p.m. by hikers who notified the sheriff's office.

The assailant was described as a Negro, 20 to 25 years old, five feet three inches to five feet five inches tall, wearing blue jeans and a green golf shirt.

Young Suspects In Burglary Are Cited

Sheriff's deputies today reported citing two 13-year-old boys to Juvenile Hall Wednesday after breaking up an apparent burglary in progress in Tamalpais Valley. Two other boys were released to their parents' custody.

Deputies were called by neighbors at 1:40 p.m. to the Kenneth Powell residence, 402 Spruce Street. One boy was apprehended coming out of the ransacked house and deputies found two others walking down the road nearby, carrying a guitar.

The sheriff's office reported the parents of two of the boys refused to believe their sons were involved, and the mother threatened to let the air out of the patrol car's tires. The father meantime took the guitar from the patrol car, the deputy reported, saying it belonged to his son.

The boys later admitted the guitar was not theirs, according to deputies.

Connally himself had taken on both McCarthy and McGovern's dovish stand on the Vietnam war. He told platform writers Thursday that McCarthy stood for appeasement in southeast Asia.

Connally's claim brought a rebuttal today from Pierre Salinger, a former member of the John F. and Robert F. Kennedy political teams.

Salinger said Connally resorted to "old type Joe McCarthyism" in attacking McCarthy and McGovern for their peace positions. He said Connally practically called them traitors.

Driver's Error Injures Three Near Sausalito

Three persons were injured Wednesday when a driver who thought the Sausalito lateral was a one-way road hit another car head-on as he was returning to Highway 101.

George E. Pfankuch, 68, of Santa Barbara told California Highway Patrol officers that he had turned around on the lateral and was heading back to the highway on the left side of the road when he collided with a car driven by Charles N. Brown, 22, of San Pablo.

Pfankuch was treated at Marin Genreal Hospital for a cut chin and forehead, and his wife, Cecile, 60, was treated for a bruised left ankle. A passenger, James Braka, 12, of Miami Beach, Fla., was treated for a scraped forehead.

Brown was not injured.

The accident happened at about 4:15 p.m.

Another Dog Is Poisoned In Novato

A dog belonging to Sidney A. Neuman of 30 Gustafson Court, Novato, was the latest victim yesterday in a series of dog poisoning, according to police.

The dog was allowed to run between 4 and 4:05 p.m. yesterday by Beverly M. Vigare, same address, according to police. Within minutes, it fell to the ground in spasms. It was taken to the Animal Clinic of Novato where it was reported in critical condition today.

Police found a wad of raw dough on the Neuman garbage can. The wad is being tested for poison.

This was the second case of dog poisoning on Gustafson Court, with two others reported on Santa Maria Drive, about half a mile away, in recent weeks in Novato, police said.

MIAMI, Fla. OBITUARIES

W. Ervin Found Dead At Home

Walter Evan Ervin, 61, of Sausalito died at his home yesterday following a long illness.

Ervin's body was discovered by Sausalito police at 11:58 a.m. after a neighbor noticed Ervin lying on the living room floor, Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine reported.

Fontaine attributed Ervin's death to apparent natural causes, noting he had a history of emphysema. Ervin had been dead for approximately 20 hours when his body was discovered, Fontaine said. An autopsy is pending.

A native of Indiana, Ervin moved to California after World War II and had lived in Marin County for the past 22 years.

A native of Ohio, Brown moved to Marin County 10 years ago and lived in Mill Valley until last year when he moved to 29 Brookdale Avenue in San Rafael.

He was employed as an automobile mechanic for Nelson Buick Co. in San Francisco. He was a member of the Improved Order of Red Men, San Rafael chapter.

$150 Council Pay Policy Advances

Splitting 3-2, the Fairfax City Council last night approved first reading of an ordinance to pay councilmen $150 a month.

The pay question was initiated last night by a letter from Mrs. Priscilla Gray, who urged the councilmen to vote themselves a salary because they have now split up the work of the city administrator, who resigned this summer after lengthy disagreements with some councilmen.

The ordinance was moved by Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet, who first tacked on another provision to put the question before the city's voters, but then withdrew that half of his motion.

Francis J. O'Connell and Mayor Robert R. Souza voted with Van Vliet for the pay while Adelaide P. Wilson and Frank J. Egger voted against it.

NO MORAL FEELING

"I have no moral feelings against a salary," Mrs. Wilson said, but the city has more important projects that could use the money. Egger also cited "quite a few priorities I'd have before I voted myself a salary."

One member of the small audience called the council foolish for acting with "only four people here" besides city officials and their families. The salary should be discussed before a regular meeting instead of an adjourned one, he said.

That was a red flag to O'Connell, who said the matter was on the original agenda Tuesday. "It's not something we're trying to sneak over," he said. "Every time . . . there's a little knife, a little dig," he complained.

NEEDS ANOTHER

City Atty. Wallace Myers said the ordinance would need two readings, and there would doubtless be an audience for the second reading.

Mrs. Wilson and Egger were also the minority Tuesday night when Souza appointed councilmen to liaison posts with the city departments. Souza's plan was adopted 3-2, although Egger and Mrs. Wilson said it approached a commission form of government.

The council also declared its position on several regional matters last night, including the San Francisco commuter tax, the proposed Angel Island antimissile base and the Bay fill master plan.

The council ordered a letter drafted for their later approval, telling San Francisco officials that the Fairfax council favors a regional approach to regional problems and considers the commuter tax a wrong step.

The council agreed to send a letter to the Department of the Army objecting specifically to Angel Island as the site and urging the Army to seek another site inside Marin County. No mention was made of the proposed alternative site on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito.

"Does anyone think the Pentagon is going to listen to Fairfax?" O'Connell asked "We're in no position to tell the military whether they should defend us." However, he approved sending the protest letter.

Mrs. Wilson outlined the Bay Area master plan drawn up by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the council endorsed the plan 4-0, Souza abstaining because he holds a post in a regional agency.

The council took a temperate stand on Marin County's new policy of three-week vacations for one-year employees. A letter was ordered sent to the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau with a copy to the county supervisors, asking that the vacation policy be reviewed at the county's budget hearings next year.

The council was split on the vacation question. Egger doubted that a week's vacation would "draw any employees from the city to the county," but Mrs. Wilson said the policy was a disservice to Marin's cities which must compete for employees.

"I don't think some clown that comes in off the street should get three weeks vacation," the first year, O'Connell said.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

COUNCIL CHAMBER — Asked Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton to bring in detailed plans Sept. 10 for remodeling the council chamber to provide a permanent council seating area with built-in microphones. Better arrangements are needed since the voters turned down a proposed civic center, Souza said. Thornton estimated cost of the alterations would be $320.

HOUSING — Asked for a letter explaining a proposal for a subsidized low-cost housing project in the city. Van Vliet said a real estate man had asked him to test council reaction to the proposal, which is similar to projects in Mill Valley and San Rafael.

CONFERENCE — Authorized $200 to meet expenses of three councilmen attending this year's meeting of the California League of Cities.

FIRE CAPTAIN — Learned from Thornton that Fire Captain Willard R. (Bob) Cortelyou, who had an apparent stroke April 25, will not be able to return to duty. Examinations for another fireman and for fire captain will be scheduled.

MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Sept. 10. The council will hold a study session Sept. 3 with the park and recreation commission.

Bolinas Harbor Panel President To Resign

Gene W. McDaniel, president of the Bolinas Harbor District board and a prime mover in the district's formation, announced last night that he will leave the board when his term expires at the end of the year.

McDaniel, at the monthly board meeting in the district office in Bolinas, explained that he was moving to Ross in January, thus would be ineligible to seek another term in the November election.

A real estate salesman, a board member since the district was formed in 1957, was active for five years before that in the citizens group that campaigned to form the district.

McDaniel has lived in Bolinas since 1945.

The other director whose four-year term expires at the end of the year, Thomas R. Tawns, told the Independent-Journal that he "probably will run" for a second term. Tawns lives in Stinson Beach.

The two directors disclosed their plans after it was announced that the deadline to file nomination papers for the Nov. 5 general election is Sept. 6.

Each candidate must gather not less than 25 nor more than 50 signatures of registered voters on his nomination papers, Tawns said, and must file them at the district's office at the fire station in Stinson Beach, where nomination papers now are available.

Directors Archie A. Goldsberry and Thomas J. Barfield, were absent.

The Bolinas Harbor District Board Also:

GILROY — Approved payment of bills totaling $3,444 from district coordinator and planner Norman T. Gilroy for his time and expenses representing the district before public bodies in Marin and around the state during the past three months.

DREDGING — Received a report from Gilroy that "there won't be a problem" in getting a state Lands Commission permit to dredge the lagoon. The Army Corps of Engineers, however, still would have the final say on dredging.

PRAISE — Received a resolution from Bolinas Bay Post 572 of the American Legion praising the proposed dredging. Barfield is commander of the post. Also received was a telegram signed by 91 persons urging the dredging be endorsed by the state.

TASK FORCE — Approved Gilroy's proposal that he draft an outline of a "task force" of state and federal officials to "resolve differences of opinion" on the future of the lagoon.

SURVEY — Received the first topographic survey ever done of the lagoon, prepared by R. M. Towhill Corp. of San Francisco at a cost of $13,700. The survey maps, the cost of which was split by the district and the county, will be displayed next month in the Bolinas and Stinson Beach community centers.

LOBBYIST — A greed to contribute an unspecified subsidy to the California Association of Harbor Districts to hire a lobbyist in Sacramento.

Fails On Quorum

The Fairfax Design Review board did not meet as scheduled last night because it lacked a quorum. The next scheduled meeting is at 8 p.m. Sept. 5 in the Fairfax Women's Club.

$75.1 Million On Investments

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state earned a record $75.1 million on its money during the fiscal year which ended June 30, Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest reported today.

"This represents an excellent average of 5.06 per cent on our investments," she said in a statement. "Interest rates were generally favorable during the year and we used our highly variable resources to the best possible advantage."

The treasurer's office invests state funds, usually on a short term basis, between the time they come in and when they have to be spent.

KENNEDY SHADOW OVER CONVENTION

Ex-Aide Serves Notice Of Possible Floor Battle To Insist For Strong Peace Plank

CHICAGO (AP)—The shadow of Kennedys past etched itself sharply across the Democratic presidential nomination convention today as committees wrangled over preliminary platform, rules and delegate seating decisions.

The subsidiary bearers of the once powerful mantles of the assassinated President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy served blunt notice they will carry to the floor of next week's convention, if necessary, a fight for the "strongest possible peace plank" on Vietnam.

STERN WARNING

Theodore Sorensen, confidante of both of the slain brothers, told reporters yesterday: "The Democratic platform must have a strong peace plank, or regardless of the nominee, we can forget about the (November) election.

"So we will present to the convention, as a majority plank if that can be, or a minority plank, if that must be, the strongest peace plank that we can draw."

Despite his lack of status as a delegate, Sorensen's voice had an authenticity in expressing the most recent Kennedy viewpoint, substantiated earlier by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in a call for an unconditional halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Sorensen and most other supporters of the late Senator have not yet found a home for the presently uncommitted delegates from California, New York, Indiana, Nebraska and other states where Kennedy had won primaries and picked up convention support before he was assassinated in Los Angeles on June 4.

THUMBS DOWN

They have turned thumbs down on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, by all odds the overwhleming favorite for the Presidential nomination scheduled to be awarded on Wednesday night.

Sorensen and his hard-shell Kennedy associates have refused to go over to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., Humphrey's principal opponent. And they have brushed aside the efforts of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., to attract them to his lately raised banner as a presidential candidate.

The unwillingness of the Kennedy bloc to accept any available substitute for their slain leader was demonstrated in a new attack yesterday by California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh on McCarthy's foreign policy stance.

Unruh said in Los Angeles that it was a mistake to minimize the crisis provoked by Russian troop movements into Czechoslovakia as he said McCarthy had done by saying that he did not view the developments as a "major world crisis."

Unruh, previously represented as leaning toward McCarthy, said that "an ominous possibility exists that the Czechoslovakian attack could be the prelude to further Soviet aggression in Europe." The assembly speaker heads a delegation originally pledged to Kennedy. He has refused thus far to endorse any other candidate.

TO OFFER NAME

Massachusetts' Senator Kennedy has rejected with a measure of finality suggestions that he take a place on the 1968 ticket. But former governor Michael V. Di Salle of Ohio persisted that he will offer Kennedy's name for the top nomination.

The developments seemd to indicate that the Kennedy influence on the platform and the selection of a nominee would be minimal at best. But this left out of consideration the indefinable residue of support for the Kennedy viewpoint in nearly every northern delegation of importance.

Humphrey's backers kept a wary eye on the possibly explosive nature of this support.

GEORGIA DELEGATES

Meanwhile, the convention's credentials committee agreed on a compromise in which two rival delegations from Georgia will share evenly the state's convention seats.

This gave 20 and one-half votes to a slate headed by Gov. Lester Maddox, a candidate for the presidential nomination, and an equal number to a more racially integrated slate headed by State Rep. Julian Bond, a Negro.

Earlier, McCarthy's strategists lost a credentials battle in the committee's vote for the temporary seating of a Texas delegation headed by Gov. John Connally.

Both actions may be appealed to the convention floor.

Stephen A. Mitchell, McCarthy's convention manager, declined at a news conference to give any count of the delegate votes McCarthy has toward the 1,312 needed for the presidential nomination.

HUMPHREY COUNT

Former Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, a Humphrey strategist, inched his estimates of the Vice President's strength up to around 1,450.

Mitchell pushed for a personal appearance before the convention of candidates before the delegates vote on a nominee.

Mitchell said he believes that if McCarthy is permitted to speak at the convention he could influence delegates to vote for him.

"I wouldn't expect any 'cross of gold' speech, but I think he is very effective in a face-to-face meeting with the delegates," Mitchell said. His refrence was to the speech made by William Jennings Bryan which won him the Democratic nomination in 1896.

Mitchell said that a McCarthy appearance had become more impelling since there apparently will be no televised debate between the top contenders before the conference opens.

O'Brien, said Humphrey will confer with national committee officials about the schedule before taking any position on the proposal for candidate appearances.

WORKS PROGRAM

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, who commands the Illinois delegation, called in testimony before the platform committee for a massive public works program for the "hard core unemployed" he said cannot find work in private industry.

And Connally teed off on McCarthy's foreign policy views.

Connally thought it "deplorable" that McCarthy had said he saw no need for an immediate National Security Council meeting on the Russian troop movement into Czechoslovakia. He assailed McCarthy's proposal that the United States suggest an interim coalition government for South Vietnam in which communist representatives would be included.

In Valparaiso, Ind., McGovern told the U.S. Student Press Association last night that while ending the Vietnam War must have priority in the campaign he does not believe it is the top issue. He said if elected his first act would be to reduce U.S. troop strength in Vietnam.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS

He said social problems in the areas of civil rights and civil disorders will present the next President with problems more complex and difficult than any faced by a chief executive.

On the other side of the fence, GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon was being advised not to accept the endorsement of the New York state Conservative Party. He is vacationing in Miami Beach.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, who faces opposition in his race for re-election from James L. Buckley on the Conservative ticket, advised Nixon against accepting the endorsement of a group that polled 510,000 votes two years ago.

In Detroit, former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama confidently predicted he will be elected president on a third party ticket on a platform of a "return to law and order" and the curbing of crime in the streets. He is scheduled for a visit in Los Angeles tomorrow.

Humphrey flew to Excelsior, Minn., yesterday for the funeral of his former brother-in-law, William C. Baynes, 63, an Internal Revenue Service official. He returned to Washington afterwards.

McCarthy spent part of the day yesterday swimming in Chesapeake Bay.

THE HOUR GROWS LATE — The toll of the long Democratic platform committee hearings is mirrored on two committee members, Sen. Jennings Randolph (left) of West Virginia and Violet Snedegar also of West Virginia, as Roy Wilkins urged social legislation to end what he calls racial polarization during a late session yesterday. Kettenhofen's Teen Son Returns Home

James E. Kettenhofen, 14-year-old son of Supervisor and Mrs. Ernest N. Kettenhofen, has returned home after being missing for three weeks.

The boy ran away from the home at 78 Alta Vista Way, San Anselmo, on July 34. He spent the time in Mendocino County until his voluntary return, his father reported.

Collegians To Lobby Directly For Funds

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — The National Student Association has voted to lobby directly in legislative bodies.

That means setting up a dual corporate structure so the NSA can continue receiving tax-exempt gifts from foundations, which pay almost 40 per cent of NSA's annual budget of about $800,000. Federal agencies, such as the Office of Economic Opportunity, also supply money.

Backers of the dual structure contend it will enable creation of a separate lobbying organization.

Opponents have argued that even if the government agrees that the dual corporation is legal, there is no guarantee the money grants will continue once lobbying begins. They were voted down.

Nearly 1,000 student leaders, representing about 360 campuses, are attending the association's 21st annual congress this week at Kansas State University. The sessions end Monday.

The delegates include about 50 Negroes who staged a brief walkout in a dispute over one of Alabama's 12 seats Tuesday night.

The congress voted to give one of the 12 seats to a Negro, and the black group resumed its work in the meetings.

The Negroes have held regular daily caucuses, and decided to leave it up to white students to solve racial problems in the colleges.

Ronald Finney, a black leader and a senior at California State College at Los Angeles, said, "we see NSA relevant to black students mainly through the black commission."

"I'm proud of this congress," said one Negro student, "because I can see it's trying to do something about things. Students must cope with these problems now so they can cope with them later."

Plea Date Set In Assault Case

Jack Acetta, 33, of San Francisco, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon following a family argument at the home of his brother, Matteo Acetta, 39, of 7 Dusel Court, Novato.

Police reported Jack Acetta swung a bumper jack at his brother, who received a dislocated finger.

Acetta's bail was set at $6,250 and he was ordered to plead to the charge at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Mill Valleyan Hurt In Two-Car Accident

A 22-year-old Mill Valley woman was injured yesterday in a two-car collision on the connector road linking Highway 101 and the Shoreline Highway, California Highway Patrol reported.

Diane Stark of 405 Windy Way was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple abrasions and contusions after her car collided at 1:15 p.m. with one driven by Francis A. Fleckner, 47, of Pueblo, Colo., as Fleckner attempted a left turn, the highway patrol said.

SON'S EYE INJURY

Father Seeks Advice To Explain Clubbing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Negro says his 14-year-old son may go blind because a policeman clubbed him to the ground when he asked for directions to a bus stop.

In a hoarse voice yesterday, Clements Canterbury asked the city council's police, fire and civil defense committee:

"What should I tell my son when I go to the hospital tonight, when he asks me 'Dad, what should I feel about losing an eye?'

"You tell me what I should tell my son, will you please. He wants to know. He tells me, Dad, I wasn't doing anything. I was scared. I was lost. I knew I had to get to the bus-stop. Instead of hitting me, shouldn't that policeman have escorted me out of there, like they were escorting the white folks out?'"

After the meeting, Police Inspector Pete Hagan said the incident had not been reported and the department's Internal Affairs Bureau would investigate.

The meeting was the second in a series called to consider alleged "overpolicing" in minority areas. Police officials are expected to testify at a third session, as yet unscheduled.

Abount 300 antipolice militants stormed out of the meeting several hours before Canterbury described the incident with his son, Denny, on the night of Aug. 12.

That was the conclusion of the Third Annual Watts Summer Festival, when three persons were killed and more than 40 injured as crowds fought police.

Lightning Kills 2 GIs

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI)—A lightning bolt crashed into a group of U.S. Army Rangers undergoing jungle survival training yesterday, killing two soldiers and injuring eight others, one critically.

The Army said the names of the dead and injured, all from Ft. Benning, Ga., would be released today.

The injured Rangers, with the exception of the critical case, were treated for shock and burns and released, the Army said.

The Rangers had been flown to this Air Force base in the Florida panhandle for the "jungle phase" of their survival training program.

They were assembled at Eglin's auxiliary field No. 7, apparently awaiting a return flight to their Georgia base, when the lightning bolt struck during a thunderstorm Thursday afternoon.

Economy Moves Force 300 Out

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Economy moves in Washington D.C. may force Aerojet-General Corp. to lay off up to 300 highly skilled aerospace workers, Aerojet officials said today.

They are among the 750 persons employed at Aerojet's Sacramento plant on the NERVA nuclear rocket program. Another 295 work for Aerojet at Jackass Flats, Nev.

Aerojet officials said the layoffs are relatively certain "unless current efforts to win modification of a government funding cut on the program are successful."

They urged the funds be restored.

Spokane and Yakima, Wash., were named after Indian tribes.

AIRMAN OF THE MONTH—A/1C Darryl D. Shaffer, a navigation specialist with the 78th Communications and Electronics Maintenance Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been named airman of the month. Airman Shaffer, who is single and comes from Paso Robles, lives on the base.

Furniture Stolen From Novato School

Someone broke into the West Novato School sometime between 4 p.m. Wednesday and 6:45 a.m. Thursday and removed some furniture from the Teacher's lounge, custodian Peter A. Padanetti reported yesterday to Novato police.

A couch, two end tables and a coffee table, valued at $150, were taken, according to police. Entry was gained through the window in the principal's office.

Cleaver Calls Nomination 'Dissent' Over Home Crisis

SPEAKER — Mrs. Kathleen Cleaver, wife of Eldridge Cleaver who is the presidential candidate for the Peace and Freedom Party, spoke to 500 persons last night in Marin City.

for President" worn by the audience and members of the Black Panther Party.

Party members, wearing black berets and black jackets, were standing on duty at intervals along the walls, and children were there, even to a few crying babies.

The tone was serious, but not sombre, with an especially attentive audience, occasionally breaking into applause or a few chuckles.

Cleaver said, "I'm not going to get elected. You dig?"

If by some miracle he did get elected, he wouldn't go into the White House, he said. "I don't want to go in there. I would turn it into a monument of the decadence, corruptness and odiousness of the past."

The time has come "to close the book on history to this point" and "write a new book," Cleaver said.

When he, an ex-convict on parole is preferred for the presidency "above and beyond" the President and "those pigs contesting" for the job, it is profound dissent, he said.

Cleaver warned the black people that "the pigs (police officers) will trample on your existence," and said blacks are racing against time for survival.

"We can't stand four more years. There ain't going to be four more years of this."

He said the Black Panthers are out "to shake up . . . and build up again." There are white people dissenting from the political machines "and we want to harness them," Cleaver said.

Cleaver said he wanted Jerry Rubin of New York, head of the Yippies, the Youth International Party, as vice presidential nominee, but the convention voted to have one from each state.

"I'll move to get him nominated in two states so he'll be vice president No. 1," he said.

He assailed Gov. Ronald Reagan as a "blank minded" man, who, if his script were removed, would say "oink." As to state Supt. of Public Instruction Max Rafferty, he said, "We all know Max Rafferty is a viper."

Seale outlined the Black Panther party's 10-point program, which "we back up with a gun for our liberty and survival."

"We will have no freedom until we have power in our own black community," he said. He spoke of lynchings of the past, and said the practice now is "legal lynching as we can see going on in the Huey Newton case."

The Black Panther Party must have a liberation army to defend its 10-point program, and make "tyrannical and despotic government act in the desired manner."

Among the 10-points are employment for black people, housing "fit for shelter," education, exclusion of black men from military service, freedom for all black men in prison, land, building and housing for black people and black juries for black people, he noted.

Black people shouldn't have to defend a "racist government" and kill other colored people in behalf of that government, Seale said.

Mrs. Cleaver said that if Huey Newton isn't set free "the sky's the limit."

She said that Newton is a political prisoner, and "we're going to get him out."

The Newton trial is providing the "power structure" with an educational process . . . "to have one more time laid before them the condition of black people."

Mrs. Cleaver said "this society is a prison" and it is "in jails we see the naked bones of oppression."

Oppression is not a Negro problem, but an international problem effecting all non-whites around the world.

She called for "total change" and said that women are not exempt from being revolutionaries. "We have to get the pigs (police) out of the way and women shouldn't be satisfied until "our men act like men and take care of the pigs."

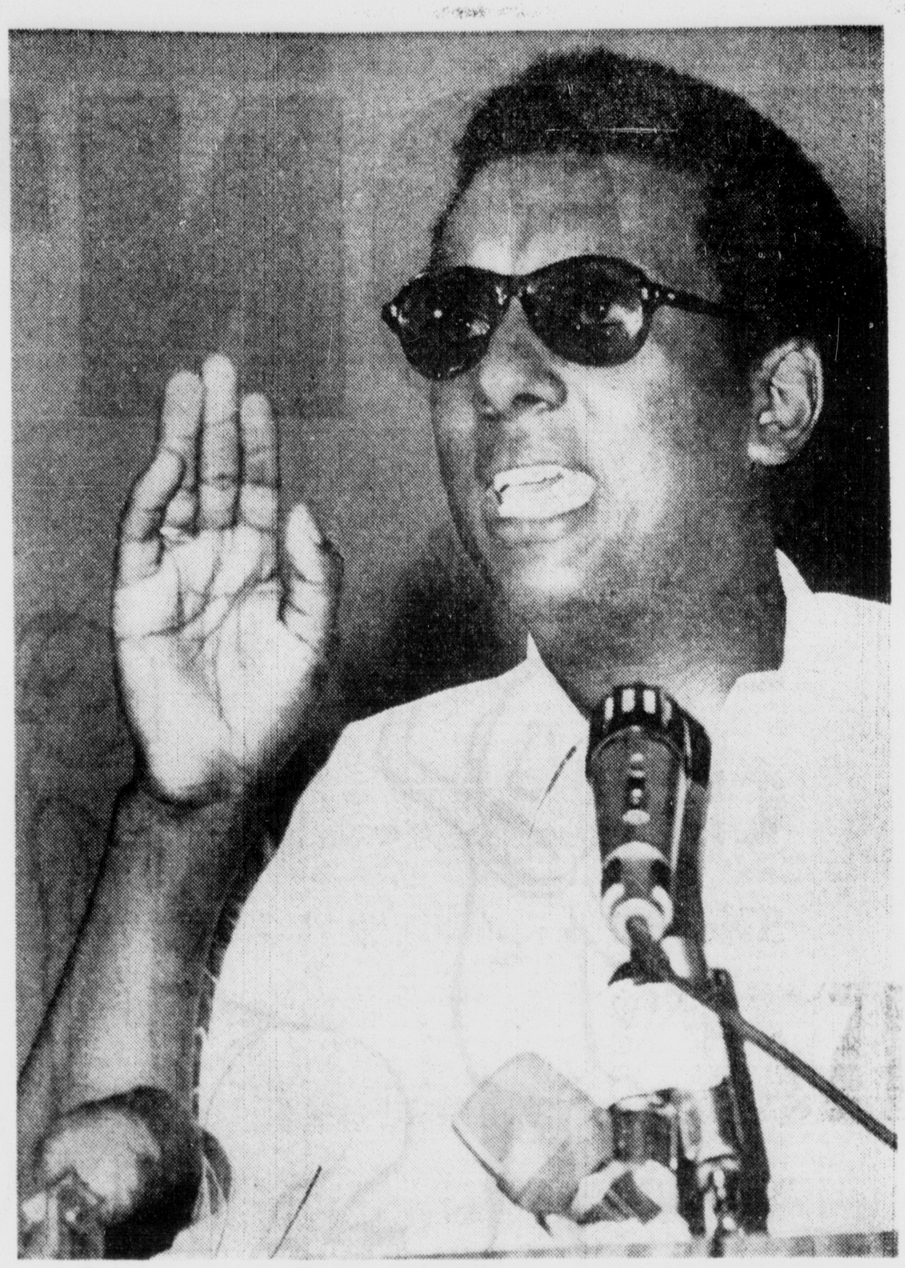
Mrs. Cleaver said the black community has to be armed for self defense. "When the pigs move in, every person has to be an enemy of oppression, exploitation and racism and wage total war.

"That's what we're up against when dealing with this type of society. We own nothing. We control nothing. Anything we destroy is theirs."

Lowry said the Peace and Freedom Party recognizes that "we live in a decadent and racist society" and the political machinery that oppresses black people "has to go."

There is no peace until there is freedom," he said. "The Peace and Freedom Party has to go into the lily white community and open eyes," he said.

George Gaines, captain of the Marin City Chapter of the Black Panther Party, introduced the speakers, and recited several poems.



MILITANT — Black Power leader Stokely Carmichael, prime minister of the Black Panther Party, tells his views at a rally last night in Marin City. Carmichael said the U. S. is on the brink of a black revolution. (Independent-Journal photo by Fred Harris)

At the close of the speeches, the Black Panthers asked all non-members to leave and they held a closed session.

FROM THE SOUL — George Gaines, head of the Marin City Panther chapter and active in Black Advance there, speaks as other black leaders sit behind him on the platform. The program drew an audience of both blacks and whites. Panther Party members were on duty around the edges of the crowd and at the platform.

they are going to kill us," he said.

Carmichael foresaw a gloomy future for black people in the U. S. saying "They are going to come down on us. There is no need for us in this society anyway."

There is no use for labor anymore and black people "have been stored . . . that's welfare," he said. "They can't sell us and they don't want to take care of that storage bill anymore."

In the style of a college lecturer, Carmichael outlined the steps toward revolution and said the goal is a society free of racism.

Whether there can be a society free of racism with white people in it hasn't been resolved, and "I'm not sure I have any solutions," he said.

There is going to be such a society or there will be no society, he warned. The capitalistic-imperialistic society must be destroyed "or we must be destroyed . . . one of the two." he said.

The blacks are now in the a revolution, Carmichael explained. "We are now beginning the armed stage and we'll see clearly who the oppressors are."

To make yourself a revolutionary, you've "got to pick up a gun and be willing to kill," he contended, willing to kill "one of your people" if necessary.

"There can be no other solution for you but the gun . . . get the guns," he advised. "So when they come down on us, we'll blow them away."

Carmichael explained the stages of attack are against the symbols of oppression, then the tools of oppression and finally against the oppressor himself.

He said "the white man cannot deal with guerrilla warfare."

Guns only, however, is not the answer, he said. The revolution must have the support of masses of the people so guerrilla fighters can have food, clothing and shelter.

The black community must be unified, and "we can't have fights in the black community because we can only carry on one battle at a time," he advised.

"We have to think about being serious. It's not just yelling 'Burn, Baby, Burn' and letting it go at that," he said.

The first step toward revolution is making fun of the oppressor and psychologically preparing to fight, Carmichael said. "We have passed this."

Then there is education and black people move toward revolution, and have a revolution," he said. "There is no alternative."

Carmichael said, "What makes a revolution is the time . . . the historic moment and we're on the brink."

Black people have to fight for economic equality, and for redistribution of the land, he said. "We're not going to get that land with talk."

He described the "major enemy" as the institutions and the white people who uphold racism and imperialism.

"We are not in revolution," he explained. "Revolution begins when you seize power. Our revolution won't start until we have seized something in the U.S., blocked it off and divided it."

Carmichael said black people need to show others they can "build a revolutionary struggle."

Black people living in capitalistic U.S. have to look toward other economic systems, either socialism or communism, he said.

But, he noted, there is a question whether socialism or communism would automatically eliminate racism.

The Black Panther Party for Self Defense is "out to destroy racism and racists," he explained. "We cannot afford to fail."

Carmichael warned that a revolution is 'hard going . . . and it's much easier to die than live and continue working. You live to kill . . . and a lot are going to die . . . think of those already dead . . . and you might see blood in the streets."

Concerning the role of white liberals, Carmichael said it will be up to them to decide. The liberals have no power "because they need no power," and there is no difference between the two major political parties, the Republicans and Democrats, he said.

He said the Black Panther Party for Self Defense is "at war" because its Secretary of Defense Huey P. Newton is a "prisoner of war" and the party will do what it can to free him.

PRESIDENT — Bobby Seale of Oakland, chairman of the Black Panther Party, tells a rapt Marin City audience of the goals of the party. The rally was organized by Black Advance.

Reagan Firm: Will Not Trade On Tax Relief

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has made it bluntly clear he will sacrifice chances of tax relief this year if legislative leaders insist on linking tax cuts with an increase in state aid to local schools.

The governor's written statement issued yesterday left no doubt that he considers a reduction in property and income taxes to be the most pressing matter that lawmakers could consider at next month's special legislative session — but it must be on his terms.

Demands by legislators of both parties and Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, that the session also consider an increase in the state aid to local schools were given less importance by the governor.

Reagan said he "will not hesitate for a moment" to put tax cuts before the session starting Sept. 9 if leaders agree to his conditions.

But he did not go that far on the matter of more state dollars for public education. He declared, "the subject of school finance is a separate issue which should be considered alone. If there is substantial ageement as to the necessity and extent of a school finance measure, that, too, can be considered for inclusion in the special session."

Only the governor can select the items for lawmakers to deal with at a special meeting. So far, he has approved only legislation that would raise benefits for workers injured on or off the job.

Reagan labeled as "unproductive and unwise" the legislative practice of lumping tax reductions with an increase of state spending in the same bill. He said he would tell that to leaders of both parties when he meets with them soon, and explained:

"I wish to make it crystal clear that the legislative agreement, which I feel is essential, must include an agreement not to tie increased spending measures into tax relief itself."

The kind of package Reagan frowned on was passed in the last hours of the regular session earlier this month under the leadership of Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh. Some Republicans also backed it.

It would have provided a total of $289 million in tax relief for property owners and new state aid to local education.

'I Did Not Shoot Anyone': Newton

OAKLAND (AP) — "I did not shoot anyone; I have never shot anyone," swore Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton.

Accused of killing one white policeman and trying to kill another, the 26-year-old founder of the militant Negro organization took the stand yesterday.

Articulate, cool and relaxed, Newton came under cross-examination by the prosecution before court recessed for the weekend.

The jury has until Monday—when prosecutor Lowell Jensen resumes his attack — to ponder Newton's detailed version of what took place before 5 a.m. Oct. 28.

The state charges Newton shot Patrolmen John Frey five times and killed him, and that he shot and wounded Patrolman Herbert Heanes. One prosecution witness, Henry Grier, a Negro bus driver, has testified he saw Newton draw a gun, start shooting and grapple with Frey.

Under direct examination by defense counsel Charles Garry, Newton told this story:

He and a friend were looking for a restaurant about 4:15 a.m. when they saw a red light flashing behind them. Newton, who was driving, stopped.

"A policeman came up and said, 'Well, well, what do we have? The great Huey P. Newton'."

While the officer was examining Newton's identification, another officer drove up. Newton said he had never seen either before, but was accustomed to being stopped by the police. He said he was unarmed.

He said the officer made him lean over the top of his car, "made a complete search of my body" and yanked out his shirttail.

He said he was pushed along and that Frey stiff-armed him in the face.

"Kinda dazed," Newton said, he "went down on one knee. As I was getting up off my knee I saw the first officer draw his service revolver. I remember hearing a loud sound or a volley of shots like an explosion.

"Then I felt something like boiling hot soup spilled on my stomach."

Shot in the stomach, Newton said he was "crawling on the ground. Things were spinning..."

He said he came to at Kaiser Hospital, where he claims he had to wait a long time: "Somebody aggravated me and wouldn't get me a doctor."

He was put on a gurney and wheeled into a room when "police stormed in, calling me all sorts of profane names, and rushed over and put handcuffs on me."

Before he described the shooting incident and is aftermath, Newton was led by Garry through a long account of Negro history. He said he had organized the Black Panthers in 1966 to patrol Negro neighborhoods and inform Negroes of their rights during arrests by police. The Panthers had law books and carried their arms openly, he stressed.

When Garry asked what difficulties the patrols encountered, Newton replied: "We saw decreases in abuses of the general community, but an increase in harassment of Black Panther party members whether they were on patrol or off patrol."

Four Injured, One Serious, In Hotel Fire

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four persons were injured, one seriously, when a fire swept through the downtown Imperial Hotel before dawn today, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

Firemen evacuated 30 tenants by aerial ladders and fire escapes as flames blocked the stairwell in the three-story brick building.

William Ellinger, 55, suffered second and third degree burns over about 50 per cent of his body and was treated at Los Angeles County - University of Southern California Medical Center.

Other victims were identified as Francis M. Meyers, 48, Irving Farkus, 26, and Ronald Kowalski, 30. They were treated at Central Receiving Hospital.

Firemen said the blaze broke out in a rubbish pile in the rear of the building. They were investigating the cause.

Treating Delinquency Still Primarily Local Problem

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Juvenile delinquency is on the rise in California, but an emphasis on dealing with young lawbreakers at the local level is sharply reducing the rate of young people sent to state correctional facilities.

That report came from the California Youth Authority yesterday in an analysis of juvenile delinquency between 1960 and 1967.

In 1960, there were 8,680 arrests for every 100,000 who were from 10 to 17 years old.

By 1967, that rate was up to 11,100 per 100,000 population, with 2.91 million Californians falling in that age range.

But the total of youths sent by local juvenile courts to the state authorities for confinemen barely moved — from 3,550 in 1960 to 3,557 in 1967. That increase of only seven came despite a population growth of 45 per cent in the juvenile population.

The rate of commitments to the Youth Authority in these years fell from 169 per 100,000 population to 122.

Allen F. Breed, director of the authority, said the trend is due in part to a program of state financial subsidization of local programs for handling juvenile offenders, enacted in 1965.

Motorcyclist Is Injured

A 22-year-old San Rafael man was injured Wednesday when his motorcycle struck the front of a car as it was coming from a driveway in front of 4164 Redwood Highway in San Rafael.

Ronald D. Hall of 5 Portola Avenue was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut left side.

Police said the car, driven by Evelyn M. Roberts, 57, of San Francisco, was obscured behind a parked truck and was inching out when Hall's northbound cycle reached the scene.

Hippie Clinic Rock Festival Wins Nod

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's Recreation and Park Commission approved yesterday a four-day jazz-rock festival to be held in the Palace of Fine Arts. The festival is to be held Labor Day weekend.

Purpose is to raise money for the Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic which treats penniless Clinc which treats penniless hippies.

Novato Study Likely In Business Decline

Arthur D. Little Co. of San Francisco, may make a survey of the decline in construction in connection with an economic study of the city's downtown area, George Barnwell reported last night to Novato Chamber of Commerce directors.

The building slump hit Novato in 1965, after peak construction worth $14,173,403 in 1964. In 1965, building dropped to $11,653,210, dropped again in 1966 to $8,820,306 and hit its lowest figure last year when only $4,810,722 was reported during the calendar year.

This year there has been an increase in the first six months when $6,011,077 in building permits were taken out from the Novato building department.

The City of Novato has an application for a federally assisted downtown study by Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco. If approved, Little would made make the economic study as a sub-contractor.

Chamber president Barnwell said the Little firm could make construction survey at the same time. The company will submit a written bid, expected to be about $6,000, to the chamber in about two weeks, he said.

The chamber would solicit the funds from interested builders and labor unions and if it could not raise the money, there would be no survey, he said.

Pickets Out Again For Salary Hikes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Public employees, seeking higher wages and other benefits, picketed offices again today in Daly City and several Contra Costa County communities.

The strikers were represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Union.

Essential services were maintained, although hampered, in all communities. Libraries, however, were forced to close in Daly City as the walkout went into its third day. About 100 of the city's 140 employees were involved while police and firemen stayed on their jobs.

The Daly City strikers sought a 5 per cent pay raise and a 37 and one-half hour week. The City Council has made a counter offer of a two and one-half per cent pay raise.

In Contra Costa County, the strikers asked that negotiations be renewed on proposals for a pay increase. The board of supervisors approved a 5.9 per cent hike but union members sought a larger boost.

Picket lines set up the strikers were honored by other unions, which resulted in the closing of several county building projects and kept county gardners, traffic signal repairmen and other employees off the job.

Cyclist Injured In Auto Collision

A 22-year-old San Rafael man was injured yesterday when his motorcycle struck the front of a car as it was exiting from a driveway in front of 4164 Redwood Highway in San Rafael.

Ronald D. Hall of 5 Portola Avenue was listed in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut left side.

Police said the car, driven by Evelyn M. Roberts, 57, of San Francisco, was obscured behind a parked truck and was inching out when Hall's northbound vehicle reached the scene.

Anti-Humphrey Sign Pulled-Out

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sign criticizing Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey by California's Dissenting Democrats, Inc., won't be put up outside the Democratic National Convention in Chicago after all.

The Californians were given back their $1,260 by the billboard company in an out-of-court settlement Wednesday.

The group wanted to post a sign of Chicago's Van Ryan Expressway saying, "Millions of Democrats don't want Humphrey. Who will elect him president? This message sponsored by Dissenting Democrats."

The billboard company, said it could not put up the sign because the space was taken up. The Dissenting Democrats brought suit for $125,000 damages in Los Angeles Superior Court.

Registration for students new to the San Rafael High School district will take place Monday, according to school officials, and appointments may be made now by calling the school's counseling office.

School officials said they encourage parents to come for counseling sessions with their youngsters.

An orientation program for new students and freshmen will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

Brickbats For Park Baseball

The Gallinas Village Community Services District Board last night voted to eliminate organized baseball at Rosal-Adrian field because of neighbors' complaints about noise and hazards from flying baseballs.

The board decided to have the backstop at the field removed to discourage games, reported board secretary Mrs. Marguerite F. Clark, but did not expect to eliminate pickup games.

Voting to proceed with irrigation plans for the park, the board asked one of its members, Walter Rudolph, to present preliminary plans for the project. Rudolph is a draftsman.

The board also approved a subsidized bus trip for district children in its recreation program to Candlestick Park Thursday to see the Giants-Houston baseball game. Cost per child will be 50 cents for transportation and ticket to the game.

The board will meet next at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 12 at John MacPhail School.

Enforcement Of Gun Law Is Delayed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Court of Appeal yesterday ordered San Francisco to stay the enforcement of the city's tough new gun registration law until the court rules on its legality.

The law, which requires registration of all guns in the city, was scheduled to become effective Nov. 1.

City Attorney Thomas O'Connor said the ruling would not prevent the "voluntary registration of guns" before the appellate court rules. But it will block the city from prosecuting those who do not have weapons registered by the Nov. 1 deadline.

The court, which Monday took jurisdiction in the case away from lower courts, acted in a suit brought on behalf of city gun fanciers.

Belt Slashed

A 240-foot conveyer belt, valued at $1,900 was slashed beyond repair sometime between 6:30 p.m. Wednesday and 6:40 a.m. yesterday at Shamrock Materials Inc., 7552 Redwood Highway, Novato, employee Max F. Cerini reported yesterday to Novato Police.

Chrysler Bosses Deny Any Minicar For '69

ATLANTA (AP) — Chrysler Corp's two top men, fresh from three days of taking the wraps off the firm's 1969 car line, insisted today the auto firm had no intention of adding a minicar to its line next year.

Board chairman Lynn A. Townsend and president Virgil A. Boyd said without qualification that Chrysler would not jump into the subcompact car race, regardless of what Ford does in 1970.

Reports have circulated in the industry since last January that Ford planned to bring out a new subcompact—smaller than its present Falcon—in the 1970 model year to meet Volkswagen's accomplishments in the small car field.

Townsend and Boyd in a pair of free-wheeling interviews touched on virtually every subject in the auto business—from prospects for price increases on the '69 models to the effect Japanese-American trade talks may have on auto business.

Minicar, new glamor word in the auto industry vocabulary, was high on the discussion list.

"We are here to introduce our 1969 cars, not to talk about future products, but you can say that as far as I am concerned I feel that out . . . Valiant is about as small a car as the U.S. public wants," Townsend said.

"With a country as big as ours, with lots of freeway driving, with customer demand for a good sized car and a good ride, I am convinced the Valiant-sized car meets customer demand and we have no plans for a subcompact."

Townsend said the recent steel price hike, along with the United Auto Workers new contract with the industry, made the possibility of a new price hike on the '69s likely. He said "our vendors' report their prices have gone up six per cent in some cases."

He declined to speculate on the size of a possible price increase—which must observers figured to be in the $100 area—and said "at this moment, I do not even know myself what the price tag will be when it is put on the cars in dealer showrooms when they are shown to the public Sept. 13."

Other topics Townsend and Boyd touched on included:

Electric cars—Boyd said he was convinced the car was not pratical in the years immediately ahead. "Can you imagine the freeways jammed with women drivers whose electric car batteries had gone dead?" he asked.

Astronaut Resigns; Fails Flight Tests

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—For the first time in U.S. space history an astronaut has resigned from the spaceman corps because he failed to pass a mandatory part of his training, the Space Agency said today.

He was Dr. John A. Llewellyn, one of the only two American spacemen born citizens of foreign countries. The space agency said he resigned because he could not learn how to fly jet aircraft.

NEWEST GROUP

Llewellyn, a chemist from Cardiff, Wales, was part of the most recent group of 11 scientist-astronauts named to the space program.

His resignation left the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) with 52 astronauts, 14 of them scientists and the rest pilots. Of the scientists, five were chosen in 1965.

The latest group of scientist-spacemen was picked a year ago. One other member of that group, Bryan T. O'Leary, resigned shortly after he started flight training saying officially that "flying just isn't my cup of tea."

NOT A FLIER

O'Leary, an astronomer, made his decision because he did not like flying and not because he was failing the pilot instruction. Informed sources said at the time he also was discourage by the space agency budget which postponed scientific spaceflights he might expect to make.

A spokesman at the Manned Spacecraft Center said Llewellyn wanted very much to learn how to fly, but "made unsatisfactory progress in learning how to fly airplanes." He had completed his solo flight in the propeller-driven T41a at Reece Air Force Bases, Lubbock, Tex., the spokesman said, but washed out of the next step in flight training—jet pilot instruction. The spokesman said Llewellyn voluntarily dropped back a class two weeks ago to get extra training but that he still was unable to solo in the jet-powered T37 trainer.

'LIKED WORK'

"This fellow liked it a hell of a lot, but just couldn't hack it," the spokesman said.

Lewellyn had gone to special pains to join the astronaut program. A special ruling allowed him and physicist Dr. Philip K. Chapman to apply for the selection even though neither was a U.S. citizen at the time.

Two and a half months before the selection was announced, last August, Llewellyn's naturalization was completed. At the time he was an assistant professor of chemistry and astronautics at Florida State University.

Hanoi, capital of North Vietnam, is a city of more than 400,000 persons.

Eratic Car Course Alerts Police

A 17-year-old San Francisco boy was turned over to Marin juvenile authorities this morning after a poilceman saw him drive an erratic course through downtown San Rafael in a stolen car, police reported.

Police said the boy, who was taken to Juvenile Hall, was stopped at 4:50 a.m. after driving south in the northbound lane on Lincoln Avenue toward Second Street, turning left through a red light at Second, making a U-turn in the middle of the block and heading east in a westbound lane.

Jewelry Stolen

Burglars yesterday pried a rear window of the home of Anna Ukini, 102 Forence Avenue, and stole $300 in loot including a cultured pearl necklace, a man's wristwatch, and $7 in change, San Anselmo police reported today.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

What would the Bay Area be without its foghorns? Well, quieter for one thing. But it would also be less safe for the mariner. And something would be lost as well for the landlubber. For the bellow of the foghorn is part of the romantic San Francisco mystique, I-J Marin Magazine editor Don Keown writes about 'the foghorn fugue" in tomorrow's issue of the weekend supplement.

For the white man, the history of the Point Reyes Peninsula began in 1579 when Sir Francis Drake and his crew on board the Golden Hinde sighted its shores and decided to land there. It began a colorful history leading down to its present-day status as a national seashore. Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly will trace that history for you in tomorrow's I-J magazine.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Sabella's Of Marin To Have Historical Exhibit In Lobby

Look for Sabella's in Marin to feature an unusual display of historical exhibits.

The idea came to Lou Sabella recently when he found himself involved in some family research following the death of his father, Angelo, in June, particularly research on the part the Sabellas played in the development of the Italian fishing industry in the Bay Area.

That this part was considerable has been substantiated by the number of photographs, documents and other material uncovered in his studies. Lou's work has carried him back to the 1840s, when Italian feluccas began to replace Chinese junks in offshore fishing waters.

Plans are to use the huge lobby at Sabella's to show off memorabilia. Included will be early ship models.

IT'S NOT UNUSUAL for a newly opened restaurant to be busy during its first few days. Curiosity alone brings in a flurry of customers.

Whether those customers return determines the measure of the restaurant's success. In a location such as downtown San Rafael you can read the signs quickly.

And the signs are good for a successful operation at the new Romulus Italian Restaurant at 1242 Fourth Street, where Corey's used to be. After two weeks the lunch trade is still brisk, dinners are picking up steadily. Last Sunday the count over four hours was 125 dinners. Not a bad showing in this area where Sunday traffic is not exactly heavy.

Owners Salvatore and Rosa Iachino offer an Italian menu with a sufficiently large selection of veal and chicken dishes and pastas to satisfy anyone, plus steaks, lobster and other seafoods. The Iachinos have brought in Italian chef Romano Giugovaz. Another chef, well known in Marin and Somona counties, is Marvin Joyce, who attends to the non-Italian preparations.

Romulus cut off its planned schedule of serving breakfasts. But lunches and dinners are served throughout the week.

CHEF KARL SCHEUERMANN of Rubini's, who can't let a contest go by without entering some of his special dishes, has been at it again.

On Monday he submitted two entries at the Western National Restaurant Convention and Exposition in San Francisco — a decorated cake and a lobster mousse — for the Culinary Olympics, a competition among master chefs to produce unique dishes. His cake took first prize and the mousse came in third in its category.

On Tuesday he turned in three more: A carving of an elephant in candle wax, taking first prize in the sculpture division; Duck a l'Orange in the hot food division, shown cold — winning a third prize; and for his ham shown cold, he took another third prize.

THAT NEW building of redwood, stone and glass, between Highway 101 and the Bon Air Shopping Center on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, is the new Lyons Restaurant. It will open on Tuesday with an invitations-only luncheon. From 4 p.m. it will be wide open to the public 24 hours a day for breakfast, lunches, dinners and snacks.

There is a cocktail lounge, dining room accommodating 135 persons, and the latest in cooking equipment has been installed in the kitchen.

This is the second Lyons establishment in Marin, the other being at Northgate Shopping Center. Incidentally I find that George Hooper, who was chef at many Marin restaurants, is now at Lyons.

INN MARIN at Strawberry Town and Country Village has changed its operation to buffet service and music for dancing.

From 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays the buffet is open for lunches and dinners. There is no food service on Mondays, but the bar is open from 4 p.m.

A dance floor has been installed and from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. ther's music by the Daily Requirements from Las Vegas. Saturday and Sunday breakfast show from 2 to 5:30 a.m. features the Cleveland Jones Trio and this group also has a jam session on Sundays from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

FOOD DEMONSTRATION will take place at Strawberry Town and Country Village tomorrow from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. when the Hearth Shop and the Happy House join forces in barbecue cooking to display some of their gourmet cookery and cutlery.

The Hearth Shop will show off its Weber kettles in action on roast beef, a whole turkey — and hot dogs. Spectators will be invited to sample the fare. Demonstration will be held near the Happy House, which is offering beef fondue snacks.

CARL AND REGINA BROWN who recently took over the Griddle in San Rafael will close at 6 p.m. on Sunday and reopen at 6 a.m. Friday, Aug. 30 for extensive kitchen repair and remodeling. They have lined up three good cooks for their reopening — Marvin Miller, Harvey Berreman and Esmeraldo De La Garza. Plans are now being made for a number of menu changes and additions.

BIG NICK KOBSEFF of Rancho Nicasio is busy not only with the restaurant business.

As he is one of those who started the Sister Cities Foundation between McCloud and Nicasio, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday he will have in tow about 150 youngsters from Shasta County on trips to the Giants' Stadium, San Francisco zoo, Golden Gate Park and other Bay Area points of interest. The foundation is picking up the tab.

MARY ALYCE and Gregory Seubert will close down Gregory's Restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera from Sunday, Sept. 1 through Thursday, Sept. 5 for a holiday.

STARTING next week, extending through Sept. 15, the Musee d'Art International at Dominic's in San Rafael will present its summer show of oils and original prints, open daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

GABOR SZABO QUARTET opened Tuesday evening at the Trident in Sausalito for a two-week engagement. Appearing with him will be the same group heard on "Bacchanal," his most recent Skye recording — Hal Gordon, percussion; Louis Kabok, bass; Jim Keltner, drums; and Jim Stewart, guitar.

FOLKSINGER DUO Sean and Kathleen is now the featured entertainment attraction at Gatsby's in Sausalito on Sunday afternoons and Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Al Jarreau and Julio Martinez are there Wednesday through Sunday nights.

NEW DATES for the New Lost City Ramblers folk singing group to appear at the Lion's Share in Sausalito are now Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 9 p.m. The group was previously scheduled there commencing tomorrow night.

Trustees To Hear Tam Bond Proposal

A summary of Tamalpais High School District's $10.9 million bond proposal will be presented to the Ross School District Board at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Ross School.

The Ross district lies within the Tamalpais High School District. Also on the agenda is a proposal for hiring a reading specialist.

Talent Winners To Appear In Variety Show

A/1c Jerry Prawl, who won top singing honors in an Air Force worldwide talent contest, will appear in a variety show at 8:30 p.m. Aug. 29 at the Hamilton Air Force Base Service Club.

The Peer V, also of Hamilton and winners in the group singing division of the contest, will be included in the show for servicemen and their families.

Ann Watters of San Francisco will be the master of ceremonies for the hour-long show. Others scheduled to appear are singer Margaret Avery of Oakland, singer Danielle Darin of San Francisco, comedy team Ding and John of San Francisco, singer Rochelle Nemetz of San Francisco and Jack Tatum and his combo from the base.

University Ends Its Bikini Ban

HONOLULU (AP) — The University of Hawaii has bowed to a new student movement — bikini power. The school dropped a ban on bikinis in the university's swimming pool during recreational hours.

The issue arose last month when two bikini-clad instructors were refused admission to the pool. This led to a demonstration and circulation of petitions. The brief swim suits were banned after several girls lost them while diving.

Hearing Scheduled

Carlos A. Rosete, 18, of San Francisco, was ordered yesterday to appear at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court for a preliminary hearing on a charge of stealing a motorcycle in Sausalito Aug. 14. Rosete pleaded innocent to the charge Wednesday.

35 Embarking On Soviet 'People-To-People' Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-five Americans, undismayed by international tensions surrounding the Soviet takeover in Czechoslovakia, are going to the Soviet Union today on a "people-to people" basis.

The trip is the 13th expedition to Russia organized by the Citizens Exchange Crops, a New York-based organization which set up the Glassoboro residents' Russian trip after last year's Glassboro summit conference.

One of the people leaving today, Mrs. Ethel Pulik of Rye, N.Y., said she and her husband are going "to see if its possible to communicate with the Russians simply as people."

"I don't think there will be any danger," she said. "We're going to take a chance and see what happens."

"We have childen and so we are concerned about the future," Mrs. Pulik said. "We're not anti-Russian, we're pro- civilization."

Hilda Reagan of Great Neck, N.Y., a former student at Belloit College, said she is a "little apprehensive" about the trip since the occupation of Czechoslovaka.

It will be a little more tense than it would be otherwise," she said.

Asked about the Soviet invasion she said "I don't think it's right, but I was overjoyed to hear that President Johnson is not going to do anything about it other than in the U.N."

Lillian Mitchell, a legal secretary from Camillus, N.Y., said she feels the Soviet move "makes the Glassboro meeting very hollow." She added, "I'm going anyway," she said.

The 35 will be in Russia three weeks.

TWO MONTHS BEFORE SERVICE

At this stage of construction the new Denny's restaurant on Highway 101, Novato between Grant and De Long avenues appears to be a long way from completion. But the new uunit in the multi-million dollar nationwide food chain is scheduled to open by the middle of October. Denny's restaurants cater to the highway traveling public.

Scientists Say Russ Rocket Missed

PASADENA (AP) — Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory say they have new evidence proving the Soviet Union's Venera 4 missed Venus by 15 miles last Oct. 18 and didn't hit as the Russians claimed.

The U.S. scientists say their analysis of radio signals from Mariner 5, which flew past Venus a day later at a distance of 2,540 miles, shows the Russian capsule either landed on an improbable 15-mile high Venusian peak, or it stopped transmitting at that altitude.

MR. AND MRS. BRADFORD Collins and their daughter, Robin, will entertain tonight at a cocktail and dinner party in their Fairfax home. The party will honor Martha Hooper of Piedmont and her fiance, Julian Soler of Mexico City.

Guests will include the wedding party, and the wedding will take place Saturday at Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

Martha and Robin are Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sisters at the University of California at Los Angeles. They attended the University of the Americas in Mexico City last semester and were houseguests of the Solers. The senior Mr. Soler is a Mexican movie actor.

MR. AND MRS. ALAN M. Eshelman, who have been living in Fairfax since their marriage last November, left yesterday to live in Hawaii for two years, where he will be working on a master's degree in marine biology at the University of Hawaii.

Mrs. Eshelman is the former Carroll Kibbee, daughter of Mrs. Carleton Williams of Mill Valley and Wallace G. Kibbee of San Francisco, and Alan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eshelman of Mill Valley.

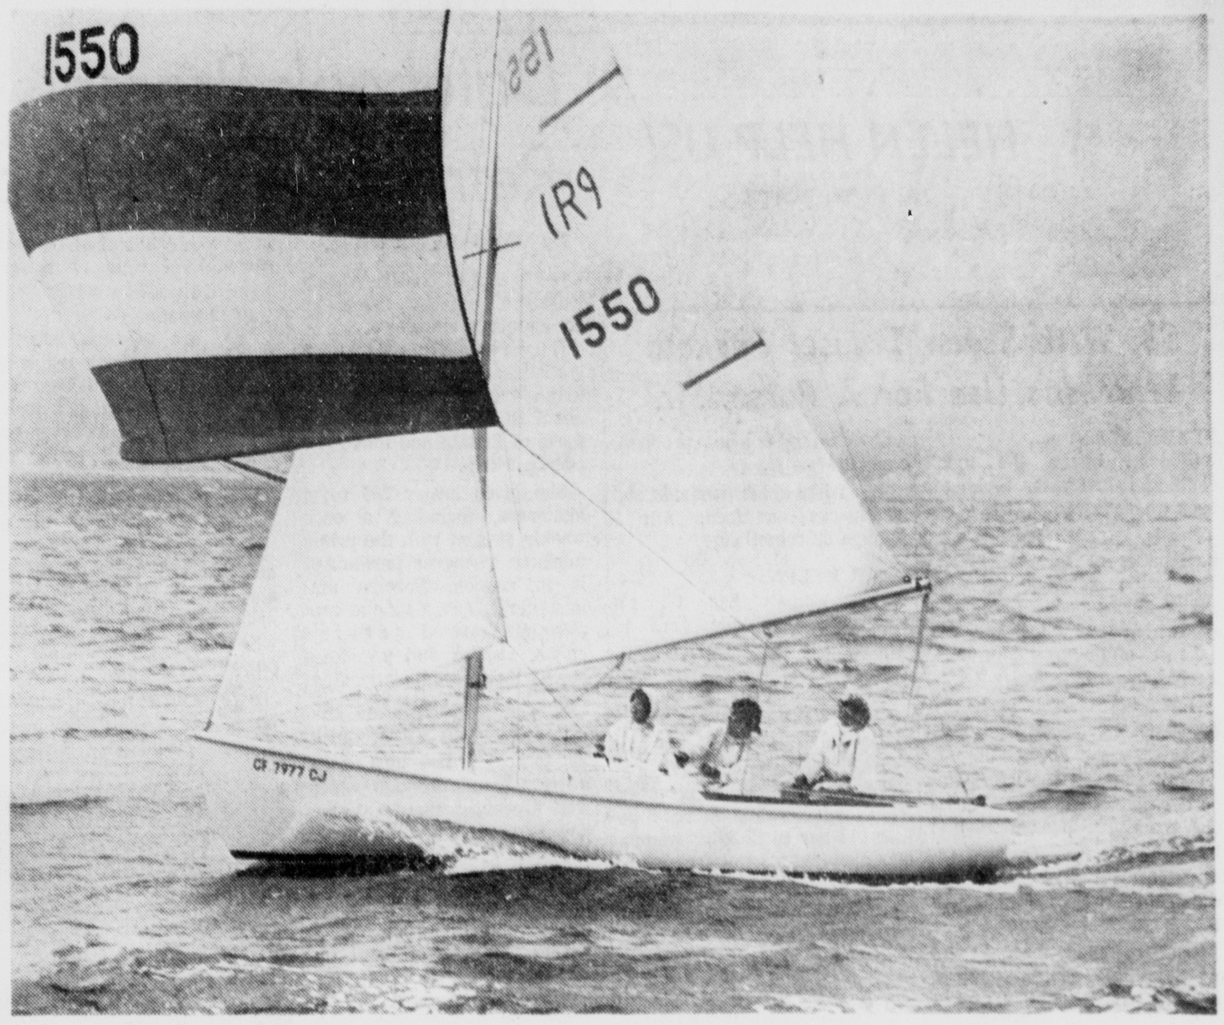
The couple were both graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin. Alan has a degree in marine biology from the University of California. He has been teaching guitar at the Creative Music School in San Rafael and at his studio in Mill Valley.

IT'S A FAMILY reunion for the Benton Mathews family in Belvedere. Capt. and Mrs. Stephen Mathews and their infant daughter, Kelly Jean, 7-months-old, arrived from Hawaii. Steve is now out of the Air Force and will be doing graduate work in electronics at Washington State University at Pullman, Wash.

Also visiting is their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Peter Mathews, and her little daughter, Kathryn Elizabeth, 3-months-old, from Nashville, Tenn., where Pete is studying dentistry at Meharry Medical College. Peter has a summer job as a dentist at Missouri State Penitentiary. He will join the family in Belvedere in September, then return to Meharry for his final year.

AN ADVENTUROUS summer for the family of Dr. and Mrs. William Ferguson of Belvedere . . . Their yacht the Voyager is back in Belvedere Cove after a 10 week voyage in the Pacific Northwest. Their sons, Bill and Bob, and friends sailed the yacht north to the mouth of the Campbell River in British Columbia. Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson and their daughter, Betsy, flew to Canada and cruised the British Columbia inlet area, which has been compared to the Fjords of Norway. At Princess Louise they met Dan Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marshall of Tiburon, who was first mate on the schooner Martha, cruising in the Northwest. The Fergusons enjoyed superb fishing and great weather. One adventure added spice to the holiday—when young Bill was at the helm and hit a whale off Cape Blanco on the return voyage.

The Fergusons' youngest son Tom, 17, did not join the family on the cruise as he was off on an adventure of his own. Tom and John Sisson of Belvedere went to Japan to visit Yasushisa Shiozaki of Tokyo. Yasu was an American Field Service exchange student at Redwood High School last year, and stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Dewey in Belvedere. The Marin boys are traveling with their Japanese friend, hiking Mount Fujiyama and visiting temples and other points of interest. After two months in Japan, Tom will enroll at the University of California as a freshman student in the premedicine program.



CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES are riding with this boatload of lady sailors. Out for a spinnaker run on the Rhodes 19, Dulcinea, are Mrs. Millicent Bishop and Ann Elder, crew, and Martha McDougle, skipper. The yachtswomen will be representing San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, and the California racing district, in Women's North American Sailing Championship in Bay Head, N.J. Monday through Thursday. Captain Martha is sailing her own yacht in a bay practice session. The Adams Cup finals will be sailed in Lightning class sloops. (Diane Beeston photo)

Skipper Martha Headed East

By BETTY FROST

One of this country's most able yachtswomen will be representing Belvedere's San Francisco Yacht Club in the Adams Cup Finals at Bay Head, N. J., next week, Monday through Thursday.

Martha McDougle first came to the Belvedere club as skipper of the Rochester, N. Y., Yacht Club's entry in the Women's North American Sailing Championships finals in 1966. At the end of that series she made a big decision. After "tossing some coins" she phoned her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McDougle in Erie, Pa., and told them she had decided to stay in California. She quit her job in the English department of a Rochester High School and relocated in the Bay Area.

She was hired as a counselor for the Foothill College District and is now working as a counselor at De Anza College at Cupertino, and living in San Francisco. She also became a woman's auxiliary member of San Francisco Yacht Club.

Martha's sailing experience began when she was 10 years old, and her father, also a sailor, taught her to handle a boat. When he thought she was ready he bought her an 18 foot sloop, which she sailed each summer on Lake Erie. Her first taste of competition was in the Sears semi-finals. Sears races are for juniors under 18, and the Sears Cup is awarded the junior North American Sailing champion.

The trim blonde, who sails in pink slacks and a pink and white checked gingham jacket (an outfit worn by all the members of her crew), taught sailing for several summers in the youth sailing training program at the Erie Yacht Club.

The series beginning in Barnegatt Bay, N.J., Monday will be her fourth Adams Cup Finals. She went to Lake Geneva as a crew member in 1964, competed in Mobile, Ala., in 1965, and came to Belvedere in 1966. Each time she represented Rochester Yacht Club. This time club members have presented her with the SFYC burgee to fly as she rounds the marks in the nine race round robin series against the winners of the eight other districts in North America. Lightning class sloops will be sailed.

Last year Martha crewed for J. E. Madrigali of Ross on a Rhodes 19 sloop, learning the ropes — literally. She now has her own Rhodes 19, the Dulcinea, which she sails in Bay competition. In this hot class of about 30 racing yachts, she now stands about third in season ratings.

As a child she was a competetive swimmer with an AAU team and also did synchronized swimming in Pennsylvania.

Deeply involved in her work at De Anza College she advises students on educational and vocational plans, as well as personal problems. The junior college system, offering both a transfer point to advanced education and vocational training, she finds particularly challenging. She has written handbooks on counseling and orientation pamplets and is now the editor of a state publication for counselors.

The lady sailor is also interested in art and does some painting and music — she has written children's operettas.

She was graduated from Grove City College in Pennsylvania, where she majored in English, and received

ATHEIST

She's Most Hated Woman In World

By PHILIP GARON

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —Madalyn Murray O'Hair, who calls herself the most hated woman in the world, for her successful suit against public school prayer, is still on the warpath against God.

She has only transferred her battle headquarters.

America's most vocal atheist, now a housewife in a quiet residential neighborhood in Austin, is dedicated to trying to make Americans reject belief in God and "the notion that there is life after death, that some big lollipop in the sky awaits us all."

"THAT NIRVANA just doesn't exist," she says, "and if people only understood that this life is it, they'd be more reluctant about doing all the filthy, rotten things they do under the guise of organized religion."

Mrs. O'Hair lives in an apartment with her artist husband Richard. From this headquarters she leads the militantly atheistic "Society of Separationists."

Her major current project is to change the country's laws so that all wealth of the churches may be taxed. She promises to bring the issue to the courts again after the presidential election.

THE ONCE-BLONDE atheist is now 49, graying, and laments that "I'm too fat for miniskirts." She looks like the disheveled housewife you'd meet at the laundromat, but her blue eyes shine with evangelical fervor when she talks about the "follies of religion" in an age when "God is dead."

She finds the atmosphere in Austin more favorable to her activities than it was in Baltimore. She fled from that city in 1964 after she and a son, William, were freed on bail following a well-publicized brawl with police in front of her house.

She is under a one-year sentence for contempt of court if she ever returns to Maryland. "Believe me, I have total contempt for the Baltimore courts," she says.

MRS. O'HAIR'S national campaign against religion began in 1960 when she pulled William out of junior high school in Baltimore in protest to classroom prayers. She subsequently filed suit calling for an end to the practice.

Her suit, along with several others, went to the Supreme Court. In 1963 the high court outlawed the use of the Lord's Prayer and Bible reading as devotional opening exercises in public schools.

In 1964, Mrs. O'Hair left Maryland for Hawaii with her family to avoid arrest on the contempt charges, and then moved on to Mexico to avoid extradition. Mexico deported her and she ended up in a San Antonio, Tex., jail on the Maryland charges. She successfully fought the extradition in court and Maryland gave up its fight to get her back.

From Austin she distributes a monthly newsletter for members of the separationists' society as well as pamphlets with titles such as "Let Us Pray" and "The Case Against Organized Religion," all printed on mimeograph equipment she keeps in her home.

HER ADDRESS is kept secret, and she screens all telephone calls by an electronic surveillance system which tape records each message. However, the number of obscene phone calls, threats on her life and the "nut mail" she receives has declined since she moved to Texas in 1965, she said.

Mrs. O'Hair plans to resume the tax-the-church proceedings in either Kansas, Texas or Illinois — states in which the separationists' society owns property — but she is uncertain which it will be.

She believes her case against tax exemptions for churches is an unbeatable one.

"The federal government gives the churches $16 million per day in aid through tax advantages and other benefits, and that's the second biggest outlay of funds in the budget — exceeded only by the war in Vietnam," she says.

MADALYN MURRAY O'Hair, who calls herself the most hated woman in the world for her successful suit against public school prayer, is still on the warpath against God. She is shown in front of the United State Supreme Court Building June 17, 1963 with her son, Garth Murray, and her mother, Mrs. Bonna Mays, after the high tribunal ruled unconstitutional the use of the Lord's Prayer and Bible reading as devotional opening exercises in public schools. HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

So, With Seven Trouser Pockets Who Has Use For A Purse, Sir?

DEAR HELEN:

I don't blame the men's clothing industry for making a buck where they can, but —

Beads, and bells and turtlenecks at formal parties? The exotic colognes and after shave lotions stridently fill the room, leaving the poor girls' delicate feminine scents hopelessly outwafted.

Now the latest word is handbags for boys. With seven pockets, the guy needs a purse?

Can't you just see us picking up our purses and departing for our respective powder rooms? La de dah!

I think I'll stay home and watch the old Bogart movies on TV.

Don't you think the guys are overdoing the peacock bit? — HAD IT WITH COPYCATS

DEAR HAD IT:

Not really. Most of the conservative critters think they're double daring in a turtleneck and two-inch sideburns. They won't adopt beads nearly so fast as we women took to front-zippered pants. And I think you'll find the same proportion of men carrying their own purses as you find women in see-through dresses, no underwear.

(If they go around together, it will eliminate one problem, won't it?) — H.

P.S. I like chain pendants and turtlenecks on men. Am I strange or something?

DEAR HELEN:

This woman has three children. When she goes to church, she takes two of them with her and leaves the third behind to watch her husband.

He isn't the type to step out, being very henpecked, but she doesn't trust him alone. She raises sand if he slips away from the house. She figures if he lifts his hat to another woman he's planning a seduction.

The poor guy doesn't drink, smoke, chase or swear. What more does she want? — FEELING SORRY

DEAR F.S.:

She probably wants the type of man her husband isn't, so she imagines him all kinds of a rounder to help her self-esteem. It's pretty sad, you know, to admit you've got a guy nobody else wants. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My two brothers and an uncle are compulsive rib ticklers and pokers. If they are behind you, watch out. You don't know if you'll get a finger jabbed in your side or a rib cage squeezed. These guys forget their strength. They hurt. It's all supposed to be in fun.

At a family gathering last week, I finally had it. I punched back, and told my uncle his squeeze wasn't appreciated.

Now I'm labeled the family villain. My sister thinks it was childish to hit a relative who was "having fun." But I have said "Please stop" so many times I'm tired of it, and without success.

Why is it "childish" to protect one's own ribs, but not childish to tickle? My husband said the punch was long overdue. — T.B.T.

DEAR T.:

I'm with you and your husband. Rib ticklers are overgrown boys who need a fast "reflex" punch in the solar plexis to show them how a jab can hurt. They won't hold your touchiness against you if your sister doesn't make a big thing over it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What do you think of parents who are constantly asking their son, who has a very good job, a nice home and a family to support, to steal things they need from the company he works for? — W.S.O.

DEAR W.:

They are dishonest, grasping and foolish, and so is the son if he does what they wish. — H.

FOR QUEEN

Datebook Prompts Family Retreat To Balmoral Castle

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth's datebook reads like no one else's anywhere.

Buckingham Palace statistics show she can expect in an average year to attend about 70 functions in different parts of Britain and make one overseas trip.

She gives nearly 300 royal audiences, including a once weekly session with the prime minister whenever parliament is in session. Foreign ambassadors, government ministers, armed service chiefs, bishops and principals of charitable organizations account for most of the rest.

IN ANY ONE YEAR she is apt to hold 16 meetings of the Privy Council, through which she exercises many of her powers and obtains advice.

At the palace she holds an average of 13 investitures to award accolades to new knights and other recipients of honors. At each of them she stands for more than two hours.

Again at the palace she holds four garden parties with 7,000 guests at each one, gives 26 formal lunch and dinner parties, and also entertains royal visitors at tea or cocktails.

On 11 occasions she will sit in one of the state rooms to pose for a photographer, an artist painting her portrait or a sculptor modeling her head.

SHE GOES TO NINE movie benefits, concerts and variety shows.

In addition, Elizabeth has to deal with official and private correspondence daily and read and approve numerous state papers. She spends at least two hours at her desk, seven days a week.

Sometimes she economizes on her precious time by studying documents under the dryer as she gets her weekly hair do and manicure in her palace dressing room. She has twice-monthly dress fittings for new clothes. Before an overseas tour, she usually devotes two entire days to wardrobe fittings.

MOST MORNINGS at the palace, the queen sees her housekeeper and her steward — he would be called the butler anywhere else — to deal with domestic matters and staff problems.

Only the tea-time hour is kept free whenever possible so she can see her children. She also tries to snatch brief periods with them between her many engagements during the day.

Prince Charles, 19, and Princess Anne, 17, join her in the private dining room for a quick working lunch when they are at home. The two younger princes, Andrew, 8, and Edward, 4, are still in the nursery.

FOR EXERCISE in London the queen rarely gets more than 20 minutes brisk walking with her Corgi dogs in the large wooded gardens of the palace.

On warm summer nights she tries to get another more leisure walk in the open air before she goes to bed at midnight.

WEEKENDS AT WINDSOR Castle do give her more time for family life but even there her desk demands her each day and official callers still have to be met.

With a timetable like that, she always looks forward to getting away from it all on her unvarying summer vacation at Balmoral Castle in the Scottish Highlands. She goes in mid August until early October.

a master's degree in guidance and counseling from the University of Rochester. This summer she is taking courses at Stanford University.

Accompanying the lady skipper east will be crew members Anne Elder of San Francisco, Millicent Bishop of Mill Valley and alternate, Mrs. Bruce S. Jacobs of Tiburon.

The hopes of the Bay Area and the state will be riding on their slim shoulders as they bring a new chapter to local Adams competition. Competition for the handsome trophy denoting excellence for women sailors of North America started in San Francisco Bay only 11 years ago. The cup was first offered in competition by Mrs. Charles Francis Adams of Boston in 1924.

ON THE AGENDA

Park Development Sponsored By Novato Hostess Club Campaign

"One Dollar for One Square Foot of Park Develompent" is the theme of the Novato Hostess Club in its camgaign to raise $1,500 toward the first phase development of the Pioneer Memorial Park in Novato.

The club has pledged that amount to the Novato Civic Foundation for the work now being done in grading the park.

The club's campaign began Wednesday. The club members will be at various shopping centers and civic club meetings with paintings covered with squares. The squares are on sale for $1.

The paintings have been donated by Mrs. Robert H. Walk and Dail Ereckson. Other prizes will be given also to those purchasing the square foot of park development.

Chairman of the campaign is Mrs. Harry Gustafson. Others working on it are: Mrs. Walk and Mrs. Edward Gardner, paintings; Mrs. Vic Sterling and Mrs. Robert Sherman, displays; Mrs. Robert Schall, posters; Mrs. John Ray, brochures; Mrs. Fred Burns, prizes, and Mrs. William Moritz, publicity.

THE JUNIOR League of San Francisco, Inc., will sponsor its first opera preview September 12 at 11 a.m. in the Peacock Court of the Hotel Mark Hopkins. Guest speaker will be UCLA music professor, Dr. Jan Popper, who will lecture on "Ernani" by Verdi.

Dr. Popper's knowledge in the field of opera is reflected in his lectures as well as his achievements. As director of the UCLA Opera Workshop and Theater, he has presented several new works to the West Coast, and, recently, the first opera season ever to be offered in Alaska. His inspiration to talented young singers and his efforts to broaden the scope of operatic appreciation in the West won Dr. Popper an award and honorable citation from the National Association of American Composers and Conductors in 1966.

The preview will be presented as a public service free of charge with the public invited to attend.

THE CREATIVE Nursery School will reopen its doors Sept. 3 at 9:30 a.m. On this day the children who are enrolled in the Tuesday/Thursday class will attend and on Wednesday, Sept. 4, the children enrolled in the Monday, Wednesday, Friday class will attend school.

The school is located at 2000 Las Gallinas Avenue in Marinwood and is for all pre-school children in the area of Marin County. For more information call the director, Mrs. Jeanette Parfitt.

MILL VALLEY Tennis Club members will have their annual round robin tennis matches and steak barbecue Saturday at the clubhouse.

Tennis will start at 4 p.m., and social chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kearney have appointed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dagley to be in charge of the 8 p.m. dinner.

There will be dancing to live music with Jim Rice playing banjo and Paul Vogelheim, the piano.

Assisting the Dagleys are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conner and Mesdames Warren Hodgdon, Mark Noble, Ralph Livingston and Eugene Crawford.

SEPT. 3, marks the fall reopening of the Junior League Next-to-New Shop, located at 2226 Fillmore Street, San Francisco. The shop promises a variety of nearly new fall merchandise in women's, men's and children's wear.

Store hours are from 1 to 4 p.m. on Monday; 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday; and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday. Proceeds from the shop go to support community projects sponsored by the Junior League.

Her Hobby Saturated Her Home

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)— Mrs. Bertie Smith's hobby filled her house and then filled her friends' houses. Then she began making money from it.

Mrs. Smith, wife of a retired Navy captain, is a potter and some of her clay vases, figures, ashtrays and other creations sell for $40.

"There's a particular demand for outdoor decoration in the Southwest because so much living is done on patios and at poolsides," she said.

She was at the Women's Pavilion at the 1968 HemisFair demonstrating her craft. She made wind chimes in the form of little men. The clapper is suspended from the inside and the baked clay has a surprising musical tone.

"YOU MAKE THE CLAY things for fun first," Mrs. Smith said. "Then you saturate your house, and then your friends' houses and then you start selling them."

All of her earnings are plowed back into her craft. Mrs. Smith has two electric kilns, a potter's wheel and other tools paid for by her earnings.

"MANY OF MY FRIENDS don't have kilns, but we belong to a club and anyone can use the club's equipment for free," she said.

She said the only tools really necessary are an orange stick, a broken dental tool, a piece of burlap and a rolling pin.

The clay used is a stoneware type fired at 3,200 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mrs. Smith has been working with clay for 12 years and she said she never makes two figures exactly the same.

"AFTER A WHILE, you start thinking clay," she said, "and you can get ideas from everywhere.

"I see figures in magazines which I can reproduce, and friends come to me with requests, so I never run out of material."

Mrs. Smith said the number of art shows in the San Antonio area made it easy to sell her merchandise, but she is not interested in going into production on a large scale.

"I'm a housewife first and an artist second," she said.

Her husband, James, is interested in his wife's art but is not a participant.

Casualty Cash

NEW YORK (UPI)—Last year the nation's insurance companies paid $1.2 billion in disability income benefits, reports the Health Insurance Institute. Ten years earlier they paid $740 million.

The increase in the amount paid stems from the fact that an estimated 57 million Americans now have the special kind of private protection known as disability insurance. This pays weekly or monthly benefits to help replace wages lost when hurt or sick.

TV REVIEW

Serial Star Sees Greater Strides Made

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—The daytime serials are beginning to turn their power of daily repetition on such national problems as race and the generation gap and while there are some who scoff at the influence of soap operas on the great issues of our time Mary Stuart is not among them.

Miss Stuart, who has been Joanna Tate in CBS-TV's "Search for Tomorrow" since the series made its debut 17 years ago, is convinced the daily shows are uniquely placed in the television firmament to shed the most light where it is most needed.

SCORES BEAT

"We are on five days a week in contrast to the single hour on a single night of a prime time special," she said. And we can and do take up issues long before they become acceptable in prime time."

It is, of course, a noteworthy fact that such delicate subjects as abortion got their first airings in the daytime serials.

Miss Tate is a sharpwitted, talented lady with a slightly retrousse (tip-tilted) nose who sang and acted in Hollywood musicals. She thought up the original idea for the serial herself, still offers "valid and useful" advice to the scriptwriters, composes songs and has other irons in the fire. She finds all this activity a not unmixed blessing. "Competent women," she said wryly, "turn some men off."

LIKES STEADY JOB

Her official biography hints that she was approaching stardom in films but she insists she was simply an actress who worked regularly. "Don't believe that biography," she warned. "It was written by my ex-husband."

Since she feels daytime serials should reflect what is really going on in the country Miss Stuart said that when "Search for Tomorrow" goes into its new half-hour format in September (from its present 15 minutes) it would take into account its growing appeal to young viewers.

"We keep lines of communication open to the young who want to reach our generation," she said. "Because we dramatize situations we can touch on subjects that might get us thrown off the air at night.

In "Search for Tomorrow" Miss Stuart is a librarian in a small city which she imagines as somewhere in Ohio. Her television husband died three years ago and after exhausting all the permutations of widowhood the scriptwriters are about to remarry her. She has a teen-age daughter on the program (and two subteenage children in real life).

Breathing City Smog Might Hasten Aging

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — California's smog may make the state's residents appear to grow older faster, according to scientists of the Air and Industrial Hygiene Laboratory of the California Department of Public Health.

The culprit in this acceleration of aging is ozone, a smog component.

The scientists were able to isolate reactive, oxygen-containing compounds from the lungs of rabbits exposed to smog concentrations of ozone.

These compounds are formed when the inhaled ozone reacts with proteins and or fats in lung tissue, said Laboratory Chief Peter K. Mueller, Ph. D.

Some of the newly formed compounds cross-link or join the long chains of unusual proteins found in the lung of rabbits and man. Since cross-linking appears to be one of the many changes which accompany natural aging, the inference is that breathing of smog may speed the physiogical aging of Californians, Dr. Mueller said.

Tax For Transit Is Raised By 14 Cents

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 14.4 cent increase has been ordered in the tax paid by property owners for the Bay Area Rapid Transit system.

The new rate of 49.8 cents per $100 of assessed valuation applies in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Nearly $31 million in additional revenues will be collected by the financially-pressed district, directors estimated yesterday.

Flaming Dress Causes Fiery Crash Of Truck

ORINDA (UPI) — A girl's flaming dress, set afire by ashes from a cigarette, caused a fiery pickup truck crash yesterday which left three 16-year-olds injured.

The youngsters told California Highway patrolmen that ashes set fire to the dress of Ann Ward of South San Francisco. Her two companions, Jerry Weathers, Vallejo, and Jerry Shook, Concord, tried to put out the flames.

Their pickup truck went out of control, hit an abutment in the center of the Orinda Cross Roads and rolled. The impact jarred loose the gas tank cap and sparks set fire to the truck.

The boys, who crawled free, suffered minor injuries. Miss Ward, who was pulled from the wreckage by a truck driver, received critical burns. She was being treated in San Francisco.

Outstanding 4-H Members Named

DAVIS (AP)—The state's four outstanding 4-H club members have been selected, winning coveted diamond star awards and trips to the national 4-H conference in Washington D.C. next April.

They are Kathy Conners, 17, Orangevale, Sacramento County; Nancy Dickerson, 17, Westmoreland, Imperial County; Pat Galbreath, 17, Riverdale, Fresno County; and Tom Shirley, 18, Hanford, in Kings County.

They were chosen from a field of 12 semifinalists at the conclusion of the statewide 4-H leadership conference at the University of California at Davis yesterday.

Rock And Bach Ring The Bell For Gripman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joseph Nobles says he combined Italian bel canto, some Bach and "a dollop of rock" in yesterday's cable car bell ringing contest.

Nobles, winner of the sixth annual event, said: "It's just a knack you either have or you don't."

Laden with prizes, gripman Nobles returned home where he said, "Now I have to listen to the racket of my three sons.

"It's sometimes more than I can stand after a whole day of ringing those bells."

Nobles operates a cable car on the Powell-Mason line.

ART REVIEW

Black-White Exhibit Challenge To Artist

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Without color, two dimensional art can have a special, striking quality or it can be lifeless. It's an interesting challenge to any artist and one well met by many in the Marin Society of Artists' black and white and sculpture show, through Sept. 15 at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Those who come out best are those best able to appreciate the elemental simplicity and make the restrictions work for them in carrying out their ideas. Conversely, the artists who seem to have taken their usual style and merely done it in black and white for the sake of the theme, have work that is no more than a photographic reproduction of something far more vital.

Few, for example, make their figures live the way Harriette Frances does. Miss Frances capitalizes on the gray scale's special properties to paint people in an unusual, dream-like way. While other artists present copies of living beings.

Naturally, graphics, which are often black and white anyway, provide some of the show's happiest experiences. They also receive many of the awards.

Claudia Steel's finely detailed, non-objective collograph and Nelcy Tarics' strong littla etching of embossed white shapes of black are both handsome merit award winners. While honorable mention winner Ada Garfinkel combines pasted-up prints with sensitive drawing on White canvas.

These three artists are also responsible for several other outstanding pieces — Miss Steel with an intaglieo, Miss Tarics with a serigraph of two black shapes on white rice paper and Mrs. Garfinkel with several provocative ink and pencil drawings.

The painting receiving an award was a well-assembled collage by Avis De Monte which won an honorable mention.

Sculpture in the show is disappointingly thin and drab although there are a few interesting pieces. Best in show was awarded to a seapstone figure, "Despair," by Venute, a work of classic grace and feeling, its dark stone planed and cut into a compelling mood.

Merit awards in sculpture were earned by Carl Bent for a metal mobile composed of scoops and rings and by Jon Caver for a fascinating wall cabinet. His "Bacchian Festival" is a delight of ornate carving, figures, faces, grapes, vines, curling wire, stone and encrusted glass — in short, an imaginative and entertaining work.

A black and white and sculpture show is a good idea. Its limitations reduce an artist to the basics, and when these are developed with sensitivity and personal conviction, the results can be even more stimulating than the wildest array of color.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and National P-TA magazines and the "film report" of the Film Estimate board of national organizations. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

"Blackbeard's Ghost" — Disney. Long-dead pirate whose spirit is cursed to wander in limbo until he performs a good deed . . . fast paced direction, good script with Peter Ustinov and Elsa Lanchester, a laugh-provoking comedy-fantasy.

"Counterpoint" — During the Battle of the Bulge a world-renowned American symphony orchestra, on tour for the USO, is captured by the enemy . . . well integrated into film's plentiful action, music gives war adventure special distinction . . . for music lovers.

"The One and Only Genuine, Original Family Band" — Walt Disney musical heavy on nostalgia, light on originality. Sometimes maudlin, sometimes preachy tale of love and politics and the generation gap of the 1880's.

"Where Angels Go — Trouble Follows" — Highly entertaining film in which Rosalind Russell again is cast as a Mother Superior . . . takes a busload of girls on a long trek across the United States.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Grand Prix" — Automobile racing at its most prestigious is thrillingly filmed in this picture of one summer's competition for the world Grand Prix championship. The attendant story is concerned with four internationally known racers.

"Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" — Spencer Tracy's last film, a crowning achievement, is a tasteful rendering of a contemporary problem. Moving story of parents' reactions to a racially mixed marriage . . . fine supporting cast completely involve the viewer in this rare film.

"Odd Couple" — Beautifully acted and directed humorous character study of two divorced men sharing an apartment.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say adults only)

"Petulia" — Bride of six months has wearied of her husband. Immature girl becomes enamoured of an older man, a jaded surgeon who has recently been divorced. Imaginative photography, confused ethics.

ADULTS ONLY

"Closely Watched Trains" — Tragi-comic story of World War II. Incompetent lover is educated by his advisor and has an affair with an older woman.

"The Detective" — Frank Sinatra performs thoughtfully as hard-bitten cop of integrity fighting the system and himself in New York. Shock effects usually realistic, though harrowing story retains some cliches.

"Girl With Green Eyes" — Sensitively conveyed story of a love affair between a young girl and an older man . . . British.

"Guide for the Married Man" — Is a stupid, tiresome film . . . crude and vulger . . . slight plot ties together a series of skits about philandering married men and women . . . holds marriage up to ridicule.

"Prudence and the Pill" — "The Pill" has a great influence on the lives of four couples and the frank subject is handled with taste and excellent acting. "Illicit love" with a complete documentary on how to obtain the pill, legally and illegally, and the many nefarious ways it can be used to obtain one's desires.

"Reflections in a Golden Eye" — Plot of this film deals with the tormented, sick lives of sex perverted people . . . the characters should be in a mental institution, not an army camp.

"Scalphunters" — Western adventure-comedy based on bounty-hunting of Indian scalps. Sometimes telling development of racial theme marred by equating violence with manhood.

"The Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robberies is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment: all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

Today is Friday, Aug. 23, the 236th day of 1968 with 130 to follow.

The moon is new.
The morning star is Saturn.
The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1630 for the first time in America, legislation controlling labor was passed in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

In 1924 Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson became the first Democratic nominee for the governorship of Texas. She won and became the first woman to serve as a governor.

In 1926 hundreds of thousands of women mourned the death of movie idol Rudolph Valentino.

In 1965 at least 45 persons were drowned when a motor launch capsized off the Philippines.

A thought for the day: Demosthenes said, "Every advantage in the past is judged in the light of the final issue."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

70-year-old Veteran Takes Deep Finesse For Tough Victory

For ways that are bright and tricks that are brainy the bridge expert Fishbein is peculiar, according to the famous poem by Bret Harstein. Harry Fishbein, now in his 70s, domonstrated the brightness of his ways on today's hand in the Mixed Team Championship at the recent National Bridge Tournament in Minneapolis.

OPENING BID

Fishbein's opening bid of one no trump promised 16 to 18 points, but he actually held only 15 points. By way of compensation, he had a five-card suit and a ten. "Besides," Fishbein remarked, "at my age nobody is gong to fuss with me over one measly point."

West opened the seven of hearts, and Fishbein was pleased to win the first trick with the queen. With this favorable lead, he needed only four club tricks for his contract.

NORMAL PLAY

The normal way to play the clubs is to take dummy's king and then return a club from dummy in the hope of finessing with the jack. The actual club position would limit South to three club tricks, and he would go down.

ON GUARD

Fishbein guarded against a bad club break by taking the ace of clubs first. When East dropped the nine, Fishbein led a low club from his hand and took a deep finesse with dummy's eight. When this deep finesse worked, declarer took the king of clubs, got to his hand with the ace of spaces and give up a club. The rest was easy.

DEEP FINESSE

If the deep club finesse had lost, the clubs would break 3-2, and Fishbein would have four easy club tricks. If West discarded on the second club, Fishbein was ready to take dummy's king and return a club toward his own jack. Declarer was sure of four club tricks unless West had Q-10-9-x, in which case no play would work.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades. Game is possible, but unlikely. If partner can raise you will be delighted to go on to game; if he cannot, you will be content with a safe part score.

Lover's Lane

TIPTON, England (UPI)—A municipal "Lover's Lane" would be set up under a proposal by Member of Parliament Peter Archer. Archer said an unofficial one now being used by courting couples is near a school and lacks privacy. One set up by the city in more seclusion, he said, "would solve the problem of passersby being shocked."

Planners To Get Street Name Plan

A plan for a standard street naming system in San Rafael will be presented to the planning commission at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 10 at city hall.

The plan seeks to eliminate misleading and duplicating names which delay emergency vehicles and confuse the public, said its author, City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner.

Hotchner proposes eliminating confusion caused by street names which sound alike even though spelled differently.

He suggested that names in an area may be related, as naming all streets in a particular subdivision for flowers.

He recommended that it would be desirable for street names to have some historical or geographical relationship to the city, the county or the Bay Area, but that streets should not be named after people who, at the time of the action, are officials of the city.

Hotchner also suggested that the prefixes north, south, east and west not be used.

Suffixes should bear relationship to the importance of the street, he suggested. For example, boulevard and sometimes, avenue, should be attached to major streets, while road and street would be used with regular streets. Way and lane would be for minor streets.

If the proposals are accepted, Hotchner said, he will recommend they be added to the city's general plan.

The policies would apply to naming of new streets and renaming existing streets as requested, he said. No wholesale renaming plan is proposed.

Legality Of Building Talk Meeting Forces A Change

The San Rafael Board of Education will meet in the San Rafael High School library at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow to discuss building plans.

The meeting had been scheduled for the office of Marshall Bowles and Associates, architects, in San Francisco, at Bowles's invitation.

Legality of such a meeting, however, was termed questionable by Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel who handles school matters. He pointed out that the California Education Code requires that the governing board of a high school district shall meet in the high school or "at such other place in the high school district" as the board selects. There is no similar requirement for elementary school boards, he said.

The San Rafael board, as city board of education, governs both high and elementary school districts.

After being informed of Godino's opinion, Supt. John F. Plank reported the meeting was changed to the high school library. The high school building program is due for discussion, he said, along with plans for replacement of Short School, and construction of a middle school in Glenwood.

Disturbing Peace Plea Date Is Set

Donald J. Hopkins, 18, of 7 Archangel Way, San Rafael, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Wednesday on charges of interfering with police officers and disturbing the peace in a disturbance at a San Rafael party Tuesday night.

Hopkins posted $100 bail to appear and enter a plea at 9:30 a.m. next Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

At the same time, Hopkins will have a preliminary hearing on a prior felony charge he had a forged prescription for narcotics on June 1 in San Anselmo.

San Rafael police reported Hopkins kicked and cursed three officers when they investigated complaints of a loud party Tuesday night at 594 Tanbark Terrace.

Crusader Vs. Plastic Bag Death Rate Urges New Federal Guides

WASHINGTON (UPI) —In a span of just three years, some 166 of the nation's children were suffocated in plastic death traps. The real toll probably was far higher.

This was the finding of an Arlington, Va., crusader for child safety, retired Col. Gaylord B. Kidwell, who conducted a poll of the 50 states and the District of Columbia on the dangers of plastic bags to youngsters.

As chairman of the Arlington Safety Council's committee on home safety, Kidwell analyzed reports from 42 states, 22 of them listing plastic bag deaths for three years, 1965, 1966, 1967.

In that 36-month period, Kidwell's compilation showed there were 56 adult deaths and 166 cases of child suffocation.

Most of the adult fatalities were suicides. The youngsters' deaths were accidental.

Kidwell found that some infants were smothered to death when their parents used plastic sheeting in cribs and playpens.

Others died when they experimented with plastic bags from drycleaning left on the floors of closets and bedrooms.

Still other young victims brought death upon themselves, by pulling the bags off garments stored in closets.

Kidwell gave credit to the drycleaning industry for printing warning labels on the plastic bags in recent years, but said this was not enough. "After all", he said, "babies can't read."

Kidwell, a retired Army colonel who has conducted a similar campaign to eradicate child deaths from abandoned refrigerators, believes that parent safety education on the perils of plastic bags will not be enough either.

He advocates redesigning the bags themselves making them mainly paper with only a small plastic window. This would show enough to identify the garment, Kidwell observed, but there would not be enough plastic to cause suffocation. Paper breathes—allows air to flow through its pores.

Kidwell noted that a number of drycleaning firms already have adopted the safer paper packaging.

Kidwell quoted Dr. Merritt B. Low, head of the accident prevention committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics, who said recently:

"Frankly, we are currently rather disappointed in the knowledge of how to prevent accidents but do not put it into practice.

"It has therefore become apparent that engineering is extremely important and that the best lever that we have of turning out safe products is through proper legislation, so that we either build in the safeguard or build out the hazard."

Kidwell also is encouraged by the creation of a national commission on product safety by President Johnson, who said in setting up the agency: "I want this commission to make recommendations that are solid, that are solutions. I don't want just another statistical study group."

The Arlington safety crusader observed that the commission, headed by Arnold B. Elkind, has published a list of 200 products which will be the subject of a safety inquiry. On the list, to Kidwell's great satisfaction, are refrigerators, freezers and plastic packaging products.

Singing Out

CORDOBA, Argentina (UPI) —Guards at central police station who heard loud folksinging and guitar music coming from a cell with four inmates thought nothing of it until one saw a handkerchief at a cell window. Inquiry showed the singing and the handkerchief were being used to muffle noise coming from an attempt to saw one of the window bars.

Assault Suspect Is Booked

A 38-year-old San Rafael man was booked Wednesday at Marin County Jail on suspicion of assault and battery after his estranged wife accused him of hitting her when she returned to her San Rafael home.

Alan C. Baer was released on $440 bail to appear at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

Police reported his wife, Mrs. Carol D. Baer, 27, had a puffed eye and blood on her blouse when they responded to a call at 1:20 a.m. yesterday. She told them Baer hit her while she was in her car when she returned to the house expecting to find a babysitter, not her husband, watching their two children.

The Baers argued over whether she could enter the house, according to police.

Jewelry Stolen

Burglars took $732 in jewelry from the residence of Lois Roberson and Margaret Jaberg, 208 Lovell Avenue, sometime between 6 a.m. and 5:40 p.m. Wednesday, Mill Valley police reported.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

BIG BOOM WAS A BUST

An explosion that looked more like a ripple destroyed this 50-by-15-foot boulder yesterday when workmen on the Corte Madera Creek flood control project waited for high tide before detonating more than 100 pounds of powder. Above, Roy Peterson (left), Jack Steely, Keith Peterson and John Howe of Richard Peterson and Son, contractors specializing in rock excavation and blasting, set the charge. At right, Howe watches as tons of water muffle the blast into little more than a splash. The current stretch of construction between Bon Air Road and College Avenue is scheduled for completion in October of 1969.

Kettenhofen Offers Courthouse Plans

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, chairman of Marin supervisors, proposed yesterday a sheath of new plans to develop the Courthouse Square in San Rafael.

He said he could produce a person or group willing to lease the property from the county, raze the century-old courthouse and build shops, offices, cafes and a high rise building in a manner similar to Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco.

Kettenhofen declined to identify any prospective developers.

In a letter to the board of supervisors, he said:

"I am confident I can present to you a responsible, willing and able person or group who would ground lease the entire square on a long-term lease with an amortized return to the county of 5 per cent on a market value of $750,000."

His proposal will be considered by the board Tuesday.

In a group of sketches prepared by the county planning department, Kettenhofen proposes three ideas for multi-level developments. He estimated the cost of initial construction at $2 million.

The three-story courthouse annex would remain temporarily as office space, then be remodeled for similar use or converted into a high rise hotel or apartment house.

The City of San Rafael would lease underground space for parking, the plans envision. Parking facilities would be constructed in two stages — first a two-level garage abutting Fourth Street then one of three levels at the rear of the property.

The supervisor proposes development of the land in four stages for economy reasons. Each segment would be leased to investors and sub-leased to tenants.

His plans are the latest in a series of development proposals presented to the supervisors since 1965. The courthouse will be vacated when the new Hall of Justice opens at the Civic Center, probably in mid-January.

Developer Harry Heifetz offered to buy the property for $900,000 early this year, but withdrew when sale conditions were altered by the supervisors. A $700,000 cash offer was presented in January by Jerome Kahn, a Greenbrae developer, but he reconsidered because of city zoning requirements.

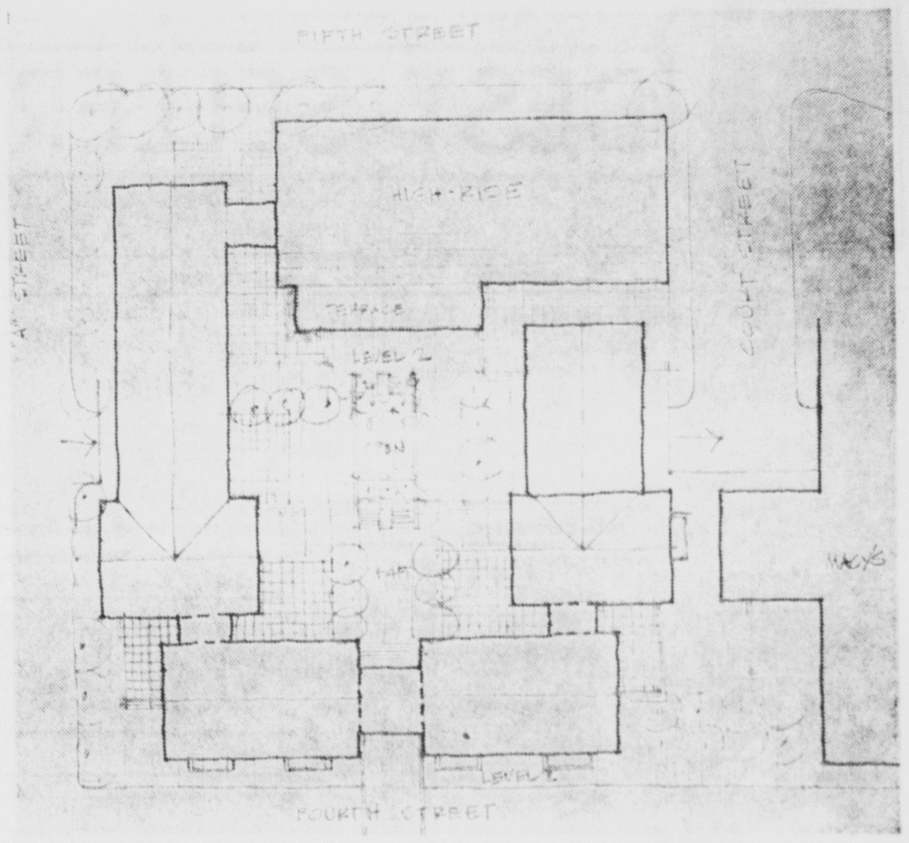
The county once offered the property for public bidding, but got no offers. Efforts to sell the land to the city also have failed.

Kahn's development plan was similar to those of Kettenhofen, although the supervisor allows for greater open space in his proposals.

"In the past two years, I have made several proposals regarding the disposition of the courthouse, including a cash sale, Kettenhofen said in his letter. "Each of my proposals has been declined due to the hope that the City of San Rafael could become the buyer.

"It has now become quite apparent that San Rafael is unable at this time to be the 'willing and able buyer' that we need."

Calling the Courthouse Square the "finest single piece of property in the North Bay area," Kettenhofen said that "I do not feel we should let this opportunity go by without exploring further avenues."



DEVELOPMENT PROPOSAL — This sketch of a proposal by Ernest N. Kettenhofen for development of San Rafael's Courthouse Square, envisions a bridge across Fourth Street, an extension of Macy's and an entrance to underground parking on A Street with exit on Court Street.

Innocent Plea

Michael John Hollomon, 19, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing and selling LSD July 30 in San Rafael. He is to appear in court Sept. 5 at 1:30 p.m. for a preliminary hearing date.

Fairfax Resident Denies Council Noise

Samuel F. Irving of 120 Porteous Avenue, Fairfax, reported yesterday that it was not he who made a razzberry Tuesday night at the meeting of the Fairfax City Council after Councilman Mrs. Adelaide Wilson spoke in favor of the county's Deer Park project.

Mayor Robert R. Souza, who asked the audience at the time to show more respect to speakers, today confirmed reports of several other persons that Irving was not responsible for the offensive noise.

Land Exchange Meeting Planned

The Mill Valley School District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at Park School to authorize an exchange of property with the City of Mill Valley.

The board will exchange title to approximately 12 acres of district lands in Enchanted Knolls for approximately 18.5 acres of city land in Project 17. The land exchange is a part of the school district-city joint development of the Project 17 area for a middle school and recreational area.

Span Board Orders Cost Study Of Barrier To Prevent Jumpers

After hearing expert testimony yesterday that a suicide barrier on the Golden Gate Bridge would be useless — except for encouraging those bent on death to go elsewhere — bridge and highway district directors ordered a cost estimate of designing such a barrier.

Meeting as the district security committee, directors endored the recommendation by their engineer, Robert E. Shields, that Anshen and Allen, San Francisco architectural firm, be asked to submit a cost estimate for preparing plans for an aesthetically pleasing and structurally sound barrier.

The committee's recommendation will go to the full board for action at its Aug. 30 meeting.

Shield's recommendation came after a one-hour presentation of suicide statistics by Dr. Jesse L. Carr of San Rafael, professor of legal medicine at the University of California Medical School in San Francisco.

In answer to questions from the committee, Dr. Carr said that there are no statistics to prove that a barrier prevents suicides. "If you restrain them from this bridge there will be migration to other bridges."

He noted that his studies show no decrease in the total number of suicides in cities where a particularly popular jumping spot has been barricaded.

"If people are jump minded, they'll go someplace else," he said.

Dr. Carr appealed to the committee to devote more energy to securing treatment for those who attempt suicide but are prevented by the alert bridge employees.

"Just stopping the jumper doesn't do any good," Carr said, noting that most attempters are taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation and released after three days.

Carr termed the bridge a "fly trap" that attracts would-be suicides who want help. Once the barriers are up, he said, the fly trap is gone and one can't help those who have been caught in the attempt.

Although he made no specific recommendations, Carr indicated he personally preferred beefed up suicide patrols combined with closed circuit television, now in use.

Capt. Edward R. Moore, head of the toll officers, told the committee his crew stops from 10 to 15 would-be jumpers for each successful suicide.

Although the exact number of jumpers is in dispute, Carr said his statistics were based on 394 successful jumps.

He disagreed with other suicide experts who believe the mere presence of the bridge triggers a suicide urge.

At least 70 per cent of suicides have indicated a suicide tendency before the final jump, he said.

Noting that he had previously supported the concept of a suicide barrier without reservation, director Stephan C. Leonoudakis said Dr. Carr's testimony had raised some doubts.

"I'd always thought it was a cold blooded joke that they'll jump elsewhere, but now I'm disturbed by the idea," he said.

It will cost between $200,000 and $400,000 to build the barrier, he said, and perhaps "we ought to put that money into a better place — building up a suicide squad."

Director William Moskovitz asked Shields, Moore and Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring to submit a report on the best methods to deter suicides for consideration by the committee.

Director John E. Dearman, committee chairman, strongly supported the barrier concept, but added that there would be plenty of time for the committee to study the requested reports before the barrier would be finally authorized.

During his statistical presentation, Dr. Carr generally agreed with recently announced figures by Dr. Richard H. Seiden, assistant professor in residence and acting director of the School of Public Health, Behaviorial Science Division in Berkeley.

Dr. Seiden said that the Golden Gate Bridge is the scene of only about 5 per cent of all suicides in San Francisco and for only one-fourth to one third of suicides by jumping.

CITY COUNCIL OF THE TOWN OF FAIRFAX
Resolution No. 850
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO THE TOWN OF FAIRFAX OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "NORTHERLY ANNEXATION" AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE TOWN OF FAIRFAX:

1. That it has come to the attention of the City Council of Town of Fairfax, and this Council finds, that it would be for the best interests of said Town and of the residents of the contiguous area herein described to alter the boundaries of said Town by annexing thereto and incorporating therein as a part thereof under the provisions of the annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, as amended, certain property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated "NORTHERLY ANNEXATION" and described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof; that these proceedings have been initiated by the City Council of the Town of Fairfax.

2. The reasons why the Town of Fairfax desires said annexation are as follows:

(a) Said territory is within the City's growth area and its forthcoming General Plan and should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the Town of Fairfax.

(b) Because of its location and forthcoming development said territory should be provided with and receive the benefits of urban level services.

3. The Town of Fairfax has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in Exhibit "A". Said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed. Thereafter, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County after public hearing did approve said proposed annexation on July 11, 1968.

4. That Monday, September 23, 1968, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock p.m., in the Council Chambers, Fairfax Women's Club Bldg., in the Town of Fairfax, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing on said proposed annexation when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the Town of Fairfax, and any owner of property within the Town of Fairfax, having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the Town of Fairfax and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the Town of Fairfax. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

5. The City Clerk of the Town of Fairfax, is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

The City Clerk is further authorized and directed to post a copy of this resolution in at least three conspicuous places within the territory and at three (3) conspicuous places in the Town of Fairfax, to-wit:

(a) Bulletin Board, Fairfax City Hall
(b) Bulletin Board, Fairfax Post Office
(c) Bulletin Board, Fairfax Women's Club Bldg.

which said places are hereby designated for this purpose, at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of the hearing on said proposed annexation.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that the foregoing resolution was duly and regularly adopted by the City Council of the Town of Fairfax, Marin County, California, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 12th day of August 1968, by the following vote, to-wit:

Major Crime Grows In Cities

CHICAGO (AP) — A national survey of 423 American cities reveals that major crime is growing, with larger metropolitan areas experiencing a rapid increase.

Police departments were asked by a radio communications firm about the status of community relations, crime rate and police staffs.

The survey shows that the overwhelming majority of communities have no program for promoting community-police understanding for lessening interracial tensions.

During 1967, 41 per cent of cities over 100,000 population reported some form of racial disturbance; towns under 100,000 were almost free of racial incidents of any kind.

The typical city has one policeman for every 500 citizens. The percentage of full-time, rained officers has increased, and there has been a steep decline in volunteer and part time forces.

That Lullaby May Not Lull You To Deep, Restful Enough Sleep

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Don't be lulled by the notion that being lulled to sleep by soft music is a good thing.

Actually, according to the National Research Council of Canada, dropping off to slumber with the radio or record player going may be bad for you.

Canadian scientists investigating sleep used a new device capable of analyzing in 10 minutes brain wave recordings taken over a period of eight hours.

Dr. G.J. Thiessen, head of the Canadian Council's acoustics division, believes the new fast analysis method may do great things for scientific research into the mysteries of sleep.

There appear to be many levels of sleep, ranging from deep to shallow, from dreamless to fitful.

Some time ago somebody proposed that, for insomniacs, at least, a drifting-and-dreaming system for inviting sleep might be devised.

Tune the radio or set the player to programs or records consisting mainly of pieces such as "Clair de Lune" or "Swan Lake." Close the eyes and let sleep inundate you.

You may go to sleep under such melodic influences, but you won't be sleeping the deep sleep that does you the most good.

As a matter of fact, according to the National Research Council, even such low level "noises" as flow from the radio or phonograph may have adverse effects.

They may move the sleeper from the deep, deep sleep essential for physiological and mental health to shallower levels where rest is vitiated by alternate spells of wakefulness and dozing.

The Canadian research, because the number of sleepers tested has been small, must be considered indicative rather than conclusive.

Anyway, it looks as though deep sleep is more vulnerable to upset by noise—even the gentle noise of soothing melodies—than anybody ever thought until now.

Westlake Slide Routes Families From Homes

DALY CITY (AP) — Six families, numbering 25 persons, were evacuated from their homes last night as part of a road collapsed on a hill behind their homes.

Pavement on Eastmoor Boulevard in the Westlake area collapsed, breaking a 14-inch water main. The gushing water caused more sliding, which tore out 50 yards of the boulevard, breaking a six-inch gas pipe.

Both the water and gas were shut off within 15 minutes and the slide stopped before causing any damage to private property.

The circular break in the street left a jagged precipice of pavement.

Daly City Fire Chief Herbert Ritzman said the "sandy soil siutation" might have ben resonsible for the cave-in.

Burglars Accept Invitation To Enter

Mrs. Thomas Shipp of Sausalito left a note and the front door unlocked for friends yesterday but a thief accepted the invitation instead.

She told police a television set worth $100, brown leather boots and some bananas were taken from her residence at 229 San Carlos Avenue between 2 and 4:15 p.m.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Some Migraine Victims Develop Dangerous Visual Impairments

VAN DELLEN

Migraine usually means a one-sided headache, but 5 per cent of the victims develop bizarre visual manifestations without head pain. This is known as migrainous scotoma, a transient visual disturbance lasting from 10 to 40 minutes.

Some lose central vision or half the visual field in each eye. Others develop shimmering vertical lines or see "heat waves."

STILL others see jagged, shiny scintillating and colored zigzag lines. At any rate, the attacks may be serious, specially if they occur while the person is driving a car. According to Col. A. J. Beswick, a Canadian medical officer, a person could lose half the visual field without being aware of the defect. This could be the cause of certain unexplained accidents.

These bizarre visual impairments are not always associated with migraine. They may stem from a variety of circulatory disorders.

For the majority, the transient visual disturbances are a nuisance and of so little import that they seldom are mentioned to the physician.

THE NATURE of migraine is not fully understood. Most victims develop an aura that warns them of an impending headache. Many have a visual aura identical to that mentioned previously except that it is followed by throbbing one-sided head pain.

Migraine equivalents also are peculiar manifestations that usually take the place of the headache. Periodic attacks of abdominal or cardiac distress have been traced to this source. Spasm of the larynx, diarrhea, increased salivation, ringing of the ears, and even periodic swelling of one hand could be migrainous equivalents.

The most bizarre symptom is distortion of objects. Articles may appear smaller or larger, or closer or farther away than they are. Still others are disoriented in space and cannot find their way about for a half hour. The usual migraine remedies are helpful.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request, to the I-J.

KINK IN URETER

A reader writes: X-rays show a kink in each ureter. Can these be straightened out?

REPLY

A kink in the tube that connects the kidney to the bladder usually is due to a misplaced blood vessel or to dropped kidney. The kink disappears when the vessel is removed or the loose kidney is anchored at a higher level via surgery, abdominal support, or the development of a fatty nest by weight gain.

IMPAIRED VITAL ORGANS

H. B. writes: How long can a person live with kidney, liver, and heart trouble?

REPLY

No one knows, and only a fool would hazard a guess. It is surprising how long these vital organs are able to function, even though impaired. Involvement of one organ usually lessens the efficiency of the others.

CANCER OF NERVES

N. C. writes: Can the nerves be affected by cancer?

REPLY

Yes. The majority of nerve tumors are not cancerous, but in neurofibromatosis, a condition which involves changes in the nervous system, muscles and bones, approximately 15 per cent of the lesions become malignant.

YOUNG DREAMS AND OLD

A reader writes: Are the dreams of a child like those of an adult?

REPLY

Yes, except that young dreams are more fantastic than realistic.

Scientists Studying Magellanic Clouds

By SCIENCE SERVICE

For astronomers and astrophysicists, the two Magellanic Clouds, large and small, serve as a stepping stone to the universe. They are a pair of stellar systems of near-galactic size, located so close to the Milky Way that they are the most easily studied of all galaxies.

Many astronomers believe the Magellanic Clouds are among the most scientifically fruitful of all celestial objects since they are, cosmically speaking, in the Milky Way's back yard.

On a moonless night, the clouds appear almost like pieces of the Milky Way that have become detached. They can be seen only from the Southern Hemisphere, and rival all celestial objects for beauty visible to the naked eye.

That galaxies could or should have satellites has been suggested by astronomers for many years. That our Milky Way galaxy is part of a local grouping of 17 galaxies is generally accepted, and the Magellanic Clouds are usually considered satellite systems of our stellar system.

Two astronomers from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Drs. Alar Toomre and Christopher Hunter, have calculated the paths the Large and Small Magellanic Clouds might have had hundreds of millions of years ago as stallites of the Milky Way.

Their tentative conclusion, reported to the American Astronomical Society, is that both came sufficiently close to this galaxy to distort its shape, which is basically flat, so that one outer edge tends to bend up slightly, the other to bend down, somewhat like a pancake cooked in an uneven pan.

Toomre and Hunter found that the warped edge of the Milky Way could be accounted for as the remnant of a tide raised during a close passage of at least the large Magellanic Cloud about 500 million years ago. Although it may not actually have penetrated the galaxy, it did make a close brush, they believe, coming within 65,000 light years of the center.

Such a galactic fender denting, as it has been termed, actually involved only the long-range interplay of gravitational forces, seemingly resulting in the distortion of the Milky Way's gaseous fringe.

Dr. Toomre is still working out details of the orbit, since he and Dr. Hunter have not yet been able to determine whether the path of the cloud during its close passage was in the same plane as the Milky Way or overhead with respect to it. They hope to resolve this ambiguity within the next two months.

The Milky Way may also have a different type of satellite, Dr. Frank J. Kerr of the University of Maryland proposes.

High velocity hydrogen clouds have long been observed at high galactic latitudes and are widely reputed to be material falling into the Milky Way's disk from outside. Dr. Kerr has another interpretation — he believes they too could be satellites of the Milky Way.

His reasoning is that, although the velocities of these neutral hydrogen clouds are known, their distances are not. They could be very near or very far away. After correcting the measured radial velocities for the galactic rotation of the sun, about 250 kilometers per second, he plotted the individual velocities against galactic longitude.

The plotted points agree well with the velocity and latitude characteristics of computations for elliptical orbits around the Milky Way made by Woodruff T. Sullivan, also of the University of Maryland.

Dr. Kerr suggests as a result of this study that the clouds are "satellite objects at distances comparable with the distrance of the Magellanic Clouds, but in the opposite direction."

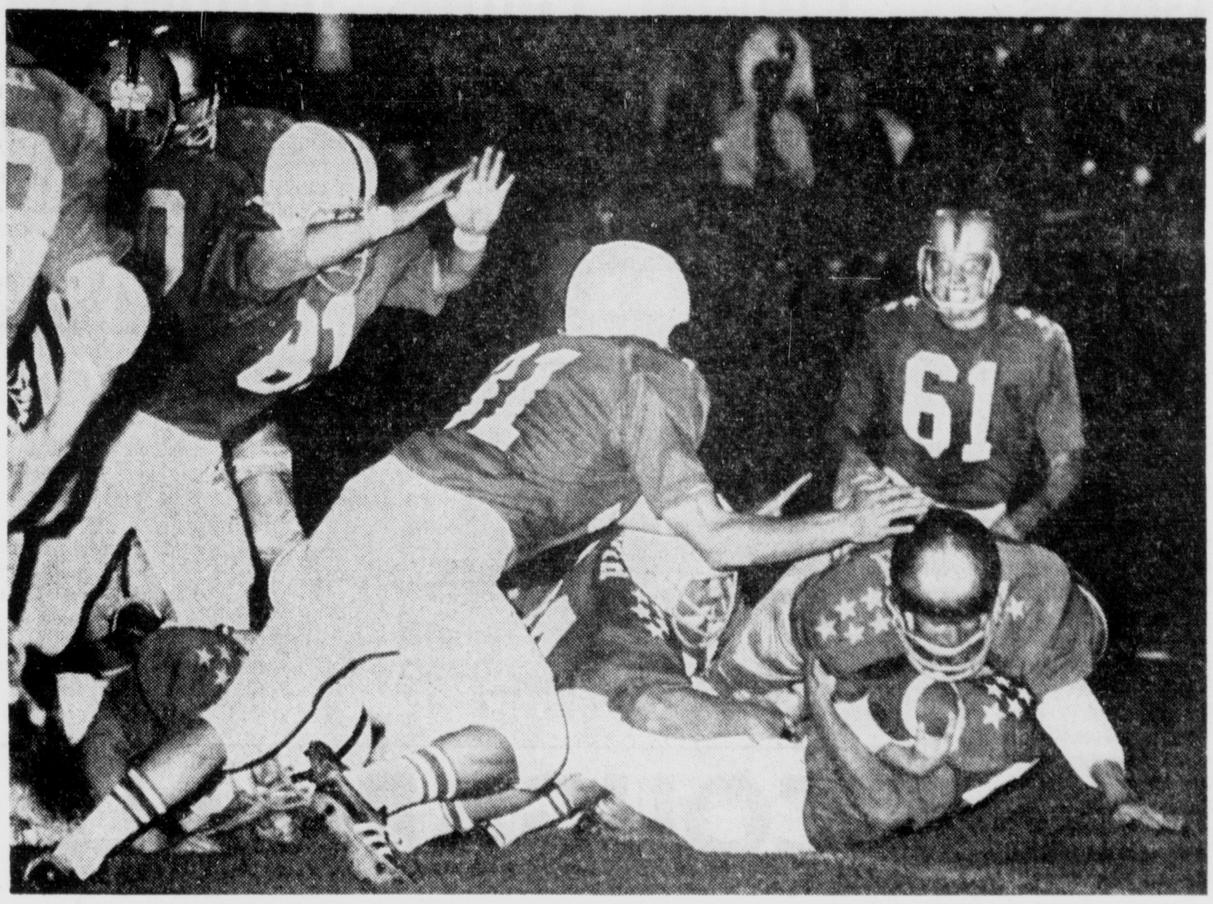
North Dominates Show In All-Star Grid Game



ROAD TO VICTORY — North workhorse Keith Stirling (lower right) of Terra Linda advances ball deep into South territory in fourth quarter to set up his team's third touchdown in 22-6 Marin All-Star victory last night at Kentfield. Moments later Tomales High's Gary Dellepere scored.

Rugged Linemen Do Job

By GLENN BECKER

Long before you heard it from the cancer stick people, football coaches and showgirls knew that it's what's up front that counts.

It's still true, and nothing more accurately describes the North's 22-6 victory over the South last night in the third Ross Valley Kiwanis Marin All-Star game at Kentfield.

"I thought our offensive line was just like a machine," enthused North head coach Don Lucas of Terra Linda High School.

"Their line played exceptionally well," agreed South coach Carl Brown of Drake High, "and that was the difference in the ball game.

"Of course, the running of Keith Stirling didn't help us too much either," he added.

Stirling, the short, stocky speedster from Terra Linda, was indeed the top back in the game. He carried the ball 23 times for 116 yards, both figures higher than the South team totals, and had a one-yard touchdown plunge called back in the second quarter by a holding penalty.

Since the North already led 13-0, the penalty call came as a relief to the Kiwanians whose fondest wish, next to good weather and a packed house, was for a close contest.

CROWD OF 5,000

They got the good weather and the crowd of an estimated 5,000 nearly filled the College of Marin stadium. Both were essential to the future of the game, since 40 per cent of the receipts must be profit to qualify it as a charity game under National Collegiate Athletic Association rules.

The profit from the game is to go to Kiwanis charities and college scholarship fund.

Perhaps the best illustration of the domination of the North's lines is the fact that the winners ran 77 plays to the South's 48; and 10 of the South plays came at the outset of the game.

The North established its ability to move the ball on its second series, after being forced to punt the first time. The defense held the South deep in its own territory, gave the offense the ball on the South 44 and watched it march to paydirt in eight plays.

Stirling carried three times

PRESSURE, PRESSURE — North defensive end Bruce Kilby of Terra Linda leaps high to pressure South passer Don Stone (Drake) in last night's Marin All-Star game at Kentfield. No. 50 is South's Wayne Wunderlich. (Independent-Journal photos by Pete Thompson)

Coach Read Had Stars In His Eyes Last Night

ALL-STAR NOTEBOOK: One of the most interested gents at last night's Marin North-South football game in Kentfield was Richard Read, the personable head coach at College of Marin.

You see, 25 of the all-stars, including 15 from the victorious North, are headed for COM and Read can use all the help he can get now that his Tars are moving into the tough Camino Norte Junior College Conference.

Read, naturally, was particularly impressed with Terra Linda's heroic Keith Stirling who is Tar-bound. Other future Tars who brightened his evening were the North's Chris Klyse, Bill Saleme, Rick Smith, Mark Stevens and Gary Welch and the South's Charley Keppel, Mike Fowler and Jim "In-Again" Finnegan.

Tremendous Job By Coaches

Most fans were talking about the tremendous coaching job by the North's young Don Lucas (Terra Linda) and Bob "Coach of the Year" Muster (San Rafael). Their polished ground attack simply overpowered the Rebels and they defensed the South's vaunted offense like Green Bay against Dominican Convent. Heralded Don Stone of Drake had such little pass protection that one wag observed: "His Dixie cup runneth over."

Anyway, the North was simply "higher" than the South, emotionally as well as geographically.

Incidentally, I was confused (what else is new?) by the locations of the rooting sections: The North was seated on the south side of the stadium and the South on the North. Next year they ought to play an East-West game and really confuse me. I don't need a press pass; I need a compass.

Turf Was Well Cared For

Speaking of the Kentfield Stadium: I've never seen the turf in such beautiful condition. A lush green and as springy as a trampoline. Luther Burbank is not dead; he is alive and living in Kentfield. (Sow what?)

Game Cahirman Charley Monte was quite relieved by the clear weather after the three days of unseasonal rain. Monday he awoke to the pitter-patter of Jupe Pluvius (he's the famous All-Leak wetback) on his rooftop and almost died when his wife yawned: "Gee, it sure seems good to have some rain."

"WHAT???" screamed Charley, "you crazy or something? We've got a ballgame to play this week." With that Charley donned his feathers and Mary Janes and successfully launched into an anti-rain dance.

Some Deserving Cheers

The sponsoring Ross Valley Kiwanis Club deserves cheers for a job well done. The Kiwanians wisely surrounded themselves with first class game officials to insure a smooth production, like referee Dick Hart, field judge Verle Sorgen, head linesman Mike Convis and umpire Bill Ross (the latter is head coach of the U.S. Olympic boxing team).

Other veterans who helped mightily were public address announcer Dave "Voice of Kezar" Scofield, timer Rusty Ghilotti of San Rafael, team physicians Arnold Nutting and Roger Hedin and Novato high's cracker-jack chain-gang of Dick Corder, Bob Overmyer and Gene Ferretti (who helped measureably).

And a final doff of the beanie to Monte's Kiwanis committee of Jack McGlynn, John Hourihan, Roger Fields, Andre Zeh, Ed Roberts, Ron Plambeck, Dutch Mondot and Ralph Peterson for a job well done.

Giants Rally To Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) —"Most clubs pay pitchers on how many games they win," says Los Angeles Dodger right-hander Don Sutton. "But I think my case is an exception."

Sutton has a point. What he doesn't have is runs. It happened again last night as the Dodgers dropped their sixth straight game, a 3-1 loss to the San Francisco Giants. The Dodgers have scored two runs in Sutton's last three starts.

DIETZ SINGLE

The Giants won it on Dick Dietz' two-out, two-run single in the ninth following two walks and a fielder's choice. San Francisco's first run came in the fifth on a walk to Jim Hart and singles by Dietz and Jesus Alou.

Los Angeles tied it 1-1 in the sixth when Willie Crawford beat out a bunt but was forced at second by Willie Davis. Len Gabrielson grounded out and Tom Haller singled to score Davis from second.

San Francisco's Bob Bolin, 6-4, who has allowed but one earned run in his last 33 innings, faces Dodger right-hander Bill Singer, 9-13, tonight in the second game of the four-game weekend set.

TWO MISTAKES

"I made only two mistakes all night and they cost me the game," said Sutton after taking his 13th loss in 18 decisions. "The first mistake was walking Bobby Bonds to lead off the ninth inning. The other was a hanging curve to Dietz on the two-run single."

Sutton has allowed only 45 hits and 13 earned runs in his last 62 innings with the Dodgers, an earned run average of 1.89 for that span.

That's even better than he pitched in 1966 when he first arrived on the major league scene to post a 12-12 record and a 2.99 earned run average to help the Dodgers win a National League championship.

The defeat knocked the Dodgers 2½ games behind the idle ninth-place New York Mets.

Sutton allowed only four hits but lost to veteran right-hander Gaylord Perry, 12-11, who gave up nine.

Dietz has hit safely in 12 straight games and has raised his season average to .321. He has 11 hits in 24 at bats against Los Angeles this year.

A's Triumph On Green's Home Run

OAKLAND (AP) — Second baseman Dick Green of Oakland discovered that it doesn't take a big swing to hit a home run.

He shortened his swing and hit a ninth-inning homer that gave the Athletics a 2-1 victory over the California Angels last night.

"I wasn't seeing the ball well. I was pulling my head away from the plate," Green explained.

PRACTICE

"I came out early for batting practice and took about 10 cuts with the shortened swing. I hit the ball so well that I quit," he said.

Green saved one short swing for the game. His homer came off Angel rookie southpaw Dennis Bennett, 0-1, with one out in the final frame.

The homer made a winner of pitcher Jim "Catfish" Hunter for the 10th time in 21 decisions this season.

UNEARNED

The only run Hunter allowed was unearned. It came in the sixth with two out on singles by Jim Fregosi and Vic Davalillo and an error by Bert Campaneris.

Campaneris made up for his bad throw with a perfect squeeze bunt that scored the first Oakland run in the next inning.

The teams play again tonight with Jim McGlothlin, 9-11, pitching for California against Oakland's Lew Krausse, 8-10.

Talk Swirls About Possible U.S. Boycott Of Olympics

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mexican hosts to the politically harassed 1968 Summer Olympic Games, first threatened by a Russian pullout over the South African situation, faced more rumblings today—talk of a possible United States boycott over the Czechoslovakian invasion.

A Baltimore television announcer said the U.S. Olympic Committee would meet tomorrow night in Long Beach, Calif., after the diving trials to discuss the possibility of such a boycott.

DEBATES

Everett Barnes, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said last night "there might be debate" soon about the possibility of an American boycott of the Olympics.

Barnes said, however, the subject definitely won't be discussed at tomorrow night's routine meeting of coaches and athletes, even though there has been talk of such a boycott.

Although it is not on the agenda of a Sept. 7-8 meeting of his committee in Chicago, Barnes said a boycott might be discussed at that time.

John Kennelly, sports director of WJZ-TV in Baltimore, said last night Barnes told him of the Saturday meeting in a telephone conversation from Los Angeles.

"When I asked if anyone had suggested a boycott," Kennelly said, "Barnes replied, 'No, not yet'."

"Barnes said there had been some comment on such a possibility," Kennelly said.

"I know there will be debate," Kennelly quoted Barnes as saying.

The whole question arose—only 50 days before the Games begin Oct. 12—after Russian troops occupied Czechoslovakia this week, prompting cries of protest throughout the world.

Russia, remember, joined a bloc of African nations last spring in a threatened pullout over any presence by South Africa, with its segregationist apartheid policy, at the Games. That problem eventually dissolved when South Africa was banned from the Games.

But despite the denunciation of the Russian action against Czechoslovakia there seems little possibility they would be ousted from Mexico.

"I don't know of any regulation that would bar Russia from the Olympics because of the invasion," said Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, in Chicago. "I anticipate no developments along that line. At least, I hope there are none."

Brundage, as in the South African affair, has taken the position that the Olympics are outside of politics.

Russia participated in the 1956 Games despite its invasion of Hungary, although a bloody fight erupted in a water polo game between the Russians and Hungarians during those Games.

The Czech occupation already has caused some pre-Olympic disruption. Sweden cut off all sports relations yesterday with the five powers—Russia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Poland and East Germany—which have troops in Czechoslovakia.

Sweden, Norway and Denmark have canceled their participation in some coming sports competition with Russia and East Germany.

Synchro Swim Event On Tap

Synchronized swimming routines attuned to various to holidays will be the motif of a program to be presented today and tomorrow evenings at Novato High School pool by the Novato Parks and Recreation Department.

The program will begin at 8:30 each night with admission free. Besides the "holiday" routines, there will also be a demonstration of synchronized swimming by the Novato Aquanauts AAU team.

Athletics' Scouting Director Resigns

OAKLAND (AP)—Ray Swallow, director of scouting for the Oakland Athletics, has submitted his resignation, effective at the end of this season. He gave no reason.

Swallow, who has been with the club in various capacities for seven years, becomes the third executive to quit since the Athletics came to Oakland. Previously, vice president Bill Cutler and farm director Art Patrick resigned.

Mill Valley Netter Upset

A slender, five-foot tall "giant" was the talk of the Rafael Racquet Club's Junior Tennis Tournament yesterday.

Providing the biggest surprise of the day at the San Rafael courts was little Rich Andrews of Palo Alto who upset seasoned Andy Moffat of Mill Valley, 6-2, 6-3, in the boys' 16 and under ago division.

Tiburon's Steve McDonald was rated the "tough luck kid" of the day as he dropped a pair of heartbreakers to Tod Overgard of Sunnyvale, 5-7, 8-6, 6-3 and Steve Morris of Altadena, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4 after coming back from triple match point in the third set.

On the distaff side, favored Darby Auerbach of Belvedere waltzed into the finals in two divisions, defeating Bonnie McBride in the age 16 class and Karen Ferguson in the 18 group.

Other semi-final results yesterday in the boys' competition: 18 and under — Bill Washauer d. Dan Chadbourn, 6-0, 6-2; 14 and under — Peter Morris d. Mitchel Lee, 6-0, 6-2; Robert Fisher d. Jeff Grounds, 6-0, 6-1; 12 and under — Dan Tierney d. Roddy Goldberg, 6-2, 6-4; Eric Lee d. Jeff Grounds, 6-4, 6-0.

Finals in all divisions were being played today.

Wysong Paces Golfers

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Dudley Wysong Jr. took a two stroke lead into today's second round of the Philadelphia Classic hoping he would be able to "feel" his way toward the eventual $20,000 first prize money.

The young Texas pro, now playing out of Hawaii, who admitted to being a "streaky putter," scrambled into the lead after the first round of the 72-hole $100,000 tournament at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club with an erratic seven under par 65.

"It was the best putting round of my career and the worst driving round," said the 29-year-old Wysong. But, it was good enough to give him a two-stroke lead over runners-up Al Balding, veteran pro from Canada and South Africa's Bobby Cole, who had 67s.

Eight players were bunched at 68, including 1967 Masters Champion Gay Brewer, Billy Casper, leading money winner on the tour this year, former PGA Champion Bobby Nichols and Charlie Sifford.

The other four tied with 68s were Jerry Abbott, a rookie pro from Florida whose wife was efpecting a baby "any minute," Jim Ferrier of California, Billy Maxwell of Indianapolis, Ind., and Bob Stanton of New Orleans.

Current U.S. Open Champion Lee Trevino was in a bunch at 69, along with rookie pro Bob Murphy, Dave Stockton and England's Tony Jacklin.

Jack Nicklaus, who decided at the last minute to enter the tournament, was one stroke over par at 73 while Julius Boros, the current PGA champion and winner of last week's Westchester Classic, was at 74, nine strokes off the pace. (Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael also had a 73.)

Arnold Palmer was one of the few big-name pros who is not competing in this week's stop on the tour.

Wysong has been plagued with a nerve ailment in his arm and a whiplash since 1966, the year he finished second to Al Geiberger in the PGA championship. The injury caused him to miss a number of tournaments, although he did earn some $34,000 in official money winnings last year.

U.S. CHAMPIONSHIPS

Berkeley's Bobby Lutz Pulling Tennis Stunners

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Bobby Lutz is a member of the protest generation. He wears his hair in sideburns a little long to prove it.

But unlike most college students, USC senior Lutz doesn't carry placards or smoke pot to emphasize his disagreements with his elders.

He confines his protest demonstrations be beating the players generally classified as his betters.

Bobby, now a permanent resident of Berkeley, says he used to be "a bit lazy" about his game. "I coasted," he said.

But all that changed when he made the U.S. Davis Cup squad. Coach Dennis Ralston "showed me I could play 30 or 40 per cent better by working harder."

In the 1968 U.S. National Tennis Championships, Lutz scrambled to victories over unseeded Bob McKinley and Pierce Kelly in total privacy. He attracted little attention with a four-set win over Australia's Colin Stubbs.

But the gallery began paying attention Wednesday when Lutz knocked off fourth-seeded Cliff Richey in five rugged sets. And he became a featured attraction yesterday by shocking the veteran Bob Hewitt, the balding Australian now playing out of South Africa.

Hewitt had been the top-seeded foreign entry in the Longwood Cricket Club tournament. He had beaten Lutz twice in straight sets in their only earlier meetings, including once in the 1967 U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills.

The latest Lutz upset left him in a men's field that includes top-seeded Arthur Ashe, second-seeded Clark Graebner, unseeded Jim McManus and Australian Allan Stone, the third foreign seed.

Lutz runs head-on into Graebner in the key semifinal test today. Ashe plays Stone and McManus has a day off.

In the co-featured women's singles, only 20-year-old Cecilia "Cece" Martinez stands in the way of an all-foreign final between four-time champion Maria Bueno of Brazil and two-time winner Margaret Smith Court of Australia.

Novato '9' Captures Tournament Opener

Annex Motors baseballers of Novato were to take on Los Angeles' team today at noon after a victory yesterday in the opening round of the Joe DiMaggio "World Series" being played in San Jose.

The Novatans nipped host San Jose 2-1 in two extra innings yesterday behind the two-hit pitching of Glenn Holsclaw.

Annex Motors, champs of the Marin County DiMaggio League, tied the score at 1-all in the top of the sixth when Bob Helbing cracked the first of his two doubles and was knocked in by a single by Tom Zechlin.

Then in the top of the ninth, Rick Denning walked and Russ Dillon delivered with a hit-and-run single, sending Denning to third. Ken Gnoss got the run to the plate with a perfect squeeze bunt.

Then the rest was up to Holsclaw, who struck out 11, walked only two and hit one batter. He got the job done.

Russ Dillon was scheduled to pitch today's noon game. A victory would mean Novato plays tomorrow at 2:30, but a loss would make them play again today at 6 o'clock. The double-elimination tourney is being played at Municipal Field in San Jose.

White Sox Hurler Loses His Bout

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Tigers are really in there fighting to win their first American League pennant in 23 years, and they're using both short and long distance blows to good advantage.

Al Kaline and Willie Horton provided the power with consecutive home runs and Dick McAuliffe helped with effective infighting last night when the Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-2. The triumph increased Detroit's first-place lead over idle Baltimore to 7½ games.

In other games, Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees whacked his 534th career homer, tying him for third place with Jimmy Foxx on the all-time list, as the Yanks dropped a 3-1 decision to Minnesota. Cleveland downed Boston 3-1 and Oakland edged California 2-1 on Dick Green's ninth-inning homer. Baltimore and Washington were not scheduled.

McAuliffe's most valuable contribution to the Tigers' cause came during a third-inning skirmish with left-hander Tommy John, Chicago's starting pitcher. The incident resulted in the ejection of both players and a shoulder injury that may sideline John for three weeks.

Three innings after John's departure, Kaline and Horton tagged his successor, ex-Tiger Dennis Ribant, for their solo homers as Detroit overcame a 2-1 deficit.

The skirmish developed when McAuliffe fell to the ground after ducking a 3-2 pitch. The Tigers' second baseman charged toward John halfway between the plate and first base after an exchange of words.

"Anyone who thinks I'm going to throw at them on a 3-2 pitch leading 1-0 in this ball park must be stupid," said John later, emphasizing Tiger Stadium's reputation as haven for home run hitters.

McAuliffe, who is 5-foot-11, slammed into the 6-foot-3 pitcher with his body as players from both dugouts ran onto the field. McAuliffe and John grappled briefly on the ground, but the fight was quickly broken up and there were no additional incidents.

John, who has a 10-5 record, will be lost to the ninth-place White Sox for from 10 days to three weeks with torn ligaments in his left shoulder, the Tigers' team physician, Dr. Russell Wright, estimated.

Detroit had scored in the first on singles by McAuliffe, Kaline and Horton. The White Sox took the lead in the fourth on a two-run homer by Tommy Davis. The Tigers' scored the game's final run in the seventh on a single by pitcher Mickey Lolich, 12-7, a passed ball and a single by Mickey Stanley.

Unhappy Allen Hits Two Homers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Controversial Rich Allen says he would like to be traded — but he sure isn't behaving like a man who is unhappy with his present job.

For the fifth time this season, the fiesty outfielder slammed two homers in one game, powering Philadelphia past St. Louis' National League leaders 7-3 last night.

Rich made his statement about a possible trip to the trading block after drawing fire from Phils' owner Bob Carpenter following an alleged barroom brawl.

Allen, who has been charged with assault and battery, said he thought the "best thing for me to do is to get out of town." Carpenter said that until Allen "grows up" he is likely to become involved in more incidents, adding that he would prefer to have Allen doing his growing up in a Phils' uniform, but "anybody's dealable."

North Dominates All-Star Battle

for 25 yards and Dave Edson made a pretty fake and bootleg for seven yards and a first down at the three. From there Rod Powell carried for the touchdown.

The real heroes of the piece, though, as they were in the next two marches, were the North offensive linemen: end Charles Collins, guards Cory Parfitt and Mark Stephens, tackles Greg Barker and Chris Klyse and center Mike Skeen.

"Chris Klyse was really tremendous," lauded Lucas. "On offense he was really blowing them out of there, and so was Barker."

PRAISE

Lucas also singled out Stephens and Powell for commendation, as well as the quarterback from his own Terra Linda club, Edson

Don Stone of Drake played most of the game at quarterback for the South, but it was an interception thrown by his substitute, Kerry Tussup of Tamalpais, that set up the second North score. Ken Murray of Terra Linda picked it off in the second quarter and returned it 35 yards to give his club a shot from the South 25.

EDSON'S TURN

Again the North line ground it out and Edson finally carried over from the one.

Edson and Gary Dellepere of Tomales High were the spearheads in the third North drive behind that crunching line play in the fourth quarter. They went 65 yards in 11 plays, including a 16-yard gallop by Dellepere, a 28-yard pass from Edson to Collins and Dellepere's scoring plunge from the one.

The South finally got on the scoreboard with 4:56 left in the game, when Ron Blasingame of Tamalpais ripped over left guard for 10 yards and a touchdown to climax a 68-yard drive in seven plays. One of them was a 15-yard penalty against the North for roughing the passer.

Blasingame was the only South back to come close to his potential, gaining 48 yards in seven tries and catching pass for seven yards.

The South had planned to throw more than it did, just 16 times, but it didn't have the ball enough and Stone was under constant pressure from the North defensive line. In addition to this the rush, the North put double coverage at times on South receivers Don Alvarado and Leroy Barrow, limiting them to one catch apiece.

Lucas summed up this third straight North triumph well, when he said of his team:

"You could talk about every single kid. Usually in a game like this you have somebody who fizzles out or who is really outstanding, but they were all outstanding."

Brodie To Start For 49ers

DENVER (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers will start John Brodie at quarterback against the Denver Broncos tonight in an attempt to straighten out a passing attack that has been unimpressive in the exhibition season.

The 49ers of the National Football League are meeting the Broncos of the American Football League for the first time. The 49ers have lost their first three exhibition games. The Broncos are 1-1.

Coach Dick Nolan plans to go with Brodie the first half and alternate George Mira and Steve Spurrier the rest of the game.

Neither Brodie nor Mira has had much success in pre-season games, though Brodie has a better completion record. Both have had four passes intercepted. Spurrier has been used sparingly.

Veterans who will not start for the 49ers are split end Sonny Randle, who has a rib injury, and offensive tackle Len Rohde. Kay McFarland will replace Randle and rookie Lance Olssen will start for Rohde.

In addition, rookie free safety Johnny Fuller will get another shot at a starting assignment, replacing George Donnelly.

Denver Coach Lou Saban indicated he will start Steve Tensi at uarterback with John McCormick likely to get plenty of work as well.

The 49ers will have to keep a close watch on halfback Floyd Little, the Broncos' leading rusher, and end Eric Crabtree, who caught six passes for 101 yards in a losing effort against Minnesota.

An Early Sellout

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboy officials announced yesterday that the Cowboy-Green Bay Packer exhibition football game tomorrow night is a 72,000-ticket sellout.

WATER SKIING-XI

Use Free Leg As Outrigger

(Eleventh of 12 lessons)

By WILLIAM D. CLIFFORD
Executive Manager, American Water Ski Association

Learning the deepwater start on a single ski is difficult for some skiers only because they have trouble balancing until the speed of the towboat is sufficient to bring them onto plane. The answer is to use your free leg and foot as an "outrigger." Before signaling the boat driver to "hit it," sit back on the ski with the "skiing" knee on your chest. Stretch the other leg behind as far down in the water as possible, letting it drag as long as necessary after forward motion starts. It will give you balance until you are comfortably on plane.

Hospital Cagers Triumph

Deadeye shooting carried the San Francisco Eye and Ear Hospital to a 67-58 victory over Paradise Pharmacy Wednesday night at Redwood High School, giving the winners the championship of the Drake High Summer basketball adult league.

Eye and Ear broke from a 16-16 first-quarter tie to take a five point halftime lead. They maintained it throughout the second half and boosted the margin a bit at the end.

Jay Johnson of Paradise led the scoring with 21 points. Jim Halm added 18 for the losers. Mike Francis meshed 19 and Steve Granelli 15 for Eye and Ear.

DeYoung Is High Roller Of Week

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Terry DeYoung of Novato again is high roller of the week.

The steady shooting southpaw spread out games of 234, 257, 223 and 204 in the 500 Trios at Nave Lanes for a whopping 918 series. That averages out at 229 per game.

High three-game series honors goes to Lou Piver, a Sausalito fireman. Piver, who rolled a 643 series the week before, this week went up to 661 in the Weekenders League at Country Club Bowl. His game scores were 259, 234 and 168.

Lolly Laver was star of the distaff bowlers, with games of 188, 214 and 199 for a 601 series in the South Shore League. Joan Moore of the Elbow Benders almost made it to the 600 level, a 594 series headed by a 236 game. Her average? It's 151.

PIN BUSTERS — Dick Cruz, 164 average, rolled a 249 game in the Nite Owls League at Country Club Bowl . . . Bob Seivers, 159 avg., 240 and 609 in the Toppers . . . Tom Cowles took over as high series leader in the 505 Scratch Trios at Country Club, his 879 doing the job . . .

In the Bowlerettes League, Lee Jacobs picked up the 4-10 split and Jean O'Konski missed a 129 triplicate by only one pin.

. . . Other big ones from Country Club Bowl included Mary Paul, 567; Marlene Burke, 551, and Pat Hudnell, 225.

BIG WEEK — It was quite a week of bowling for the Trowbridge family. Tony Trowbridge, 9, and Sheila Withers won doubles in the Bantam League; Jennifer Trowbridge, 5, won first in the Pee Wees, and Victoria Trowbridge, 6, had the high game of the Pee Wees, 94, 60 pins better than her mini-average.

DOWN THE LANES — Joe Klein is a happy bowler after wining 10,000 Blue Chip stamps in the Jackpot event at the San Rafael lanes. . .Rich McPherson had high series in junior doubles, 566, and Skip Ruhl had high game, 211.

Clippers Vie In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland Clippers can highlight a long uphill struggle tonight by beating the New York Generals of the North American Soccer League and taking over first place in the Pacific Division.

The Clippers, who trailed the San Diego Toros by 22 points a month ago, have closed to within five and could go ahead of San Diego with a victory or even a 3-3 tie, in which Oakland would earn three points for the tie and one each for the three goals.

The Clippers won their seventh straight game Wednesday, beating Kansas City 2-1.

One Marin Golfer Left In Tourney

Marin County "batted" one-for-three in semi-finals of the Northern California Junior Golf Championships at San Francisco's Lake Merced Country Club yesterday.

Of the three Marin survivors, only Mill Valley's Steve Goldfien advanced to today's finals in the fourth flight and he did it the easy way — by default over Ken Jones.

Hopes for an all-Marin final in the sixth flight evaporated when Dane Faber of San Rafael lost to Brian Roach, 2 and 1, and Art Carewe of Ross lost to Greg Wilson, 3 and 2.

Marin had 14 entrants at the start of the tournament. Now there is one.

Rams Obtain Former 49er

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams yesterday acquired tight end Kent Kramer from the New Orleans Saints.

The Rams gave up an undisclosed draft choice for the 24-year-old third-year player.

Kramer, who was the ninth draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1966, will play for Los Angeles in its exhibition game at San Diego Saturday night.

How Is Dividend Related To Stock Price Changes?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I've been told that dividends remain the same regardless of the price fluctuations of a stock. Is this true? —M. van D.

A. Yes, under normal conditions. Corporate profits are shared with stockholders by the payment of regular cash dividends. The amount of the dividend is determined by net income and the corporations's policy of paying out a percentage of its net earnings. This may range up to 75 per cent.

So long as earnings are well maintained, the dividend is usually secure, despite daily price fluctuations. But if earnings slide off, the price of the stock will likely decline.

When the gap narrows between net earnings and the payout, doubt arises as to the safety of the dividend.

If the stock continues to decline, the relation of its price to the dividend pushes up the yield, until the latter may rise above the interest rate currently paid on savings accounts and other fixed income investments.

Should a stock yield 8 per cent in constrast to an average interest return of 4.5 per cent, the higher yield is a danger signal. The next dividend declaration may be lowered; or if the corporation is facing some unexpected adversity, the dividend may be eliminated.

Q. You sometimes refer to a member of the New York Stock Exchange. Are these members elected in some way? — G. C.

A. To become a member, it is necessary to buy a "seat." This is a personal franchise, purchased from someone already a member who intends to withdraw. But membership is not achieved automatically. A thorough study is conducted into the personal and business background of the applicant, and the transfer of the seat must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the board of governors of the exchange.

If approved, the member then receives the right to trade on the exchange floor. The sale price of a seat runs high. One recently exchanged owners for $435,000.

Stocks Close Higher In Quiet Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today with blue chip strength boosting the averages. Trading was quiet.

Late advances by some of the higher quality issues put the averages nicely ahead on the day.

News of booming car sales and reports of discount rate cuts by additional Federal Reserve Board Banks were cited as encouraging factors.

Caution prevailed prior to the weekend because of the unsettled international situation.

Stronger issues included Standard Oil New Jersey, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, DuPont, Caterpillar, Anaconda and Johns-Manville.

Blue chips perked up after the Dow industrials penetrated the 891 area, regarded as an upside resistance level.

Prices rose from the start but trading was slack as caution prevailed prior to the weekend in view of international uncertainties.

Swift was off 1 and Northwest Industries was up 1½ in a second-day reaction to reports that the two were engaged in preliminary merger discussions.

You'll Pay For Being Crowded Off Roads

Up for final passage by the House of Representatives soon after it reconvenes following the Democratic national convention will be another bill to crowd America's motorists off the highways for which they pay.

Senate Bill 2658, which increases the size of trucks permitted on the interstate highway system, has already passed the Senate and was reported out by the House Public Works Committee after less than 40 minutes' consideration. Its passage by the lower chamber appears a foregone conclusion.

Also a foregone conclusion is that the automobile driver, who uses his car to get to work for lack of public transportation or to get to recreation places, will pay the added costs imposed by the measure.

It is equally certain that he will get less new roads for his money, because the bigger trucks will require wider roads, stronger bridges — and more and more repairs to existing highways.

SENATE BILL 2658 allows trucks to be a foot wider than now permitted on federal highways, requiring 12-foot traffic lanes where automobiles need only nine-foot lanes. That's an additional one-third in the cost of every road right there, to accommodate the same number of vehicles (or fewer—because every truck takes up the space of several cars).

The bill places no limit on length or maximum gross weight. And what the truckers plan is plainly told in a recent magazine advertisement by Pullman Inc.

"Eight short years ago," says the ad, "only eight states allowed you to haul doubles over their highways. Today the number is 34.

"But faster, more economical over-the-road hauling can't wait. That's why our Trailmobile Division is already hard at work testing triples — not just two trailers hitched together — but three."

Such triple-trailer trucks — which the Milwaukee Journal in an editorial called "bellowing truck trains" — will be permitted on the federal highways, under terms of the new bill. And, as the American Assn. of Highway Officials has pointed out, containing trucks to the interstate system is impossible, so "these new heavier loads would be using all highways."

THE NATIONAL ASSN. of County Officials, the U.S. Conference of Mayors, and the American Automobile Assn. have all come out against this bill. But their combined weight in Washington apparently is as nothing compared to that of the American Trucking Assn., representing about a quarter-million truckers who use the public highways as their right-of-way subsidized by 80 million auto drivers.

Many years ago, the flagrant give-aways to the railroads resulted in a political uprising which rewrote American history. The railroads now are as ineffective in getting government help as they are in competing for business. It's the trucking industry that has the muscle.

It may be only coincidence, but an investigation by the Des Moines Register disclosed that 11 of 13 ranking Democrats on the House Public Works Committee received campaign contributions from the trucking industry. Seven Democrats and three Republicans on that committee were co-sponsors of the bill.

Yes, it may be only coincidence . . .

More About Orioles

A reader wrote to the Independent-Journal several weeks ago to say she had read our editorial about the Arizona orioles in San Rafael and that they sounded like the hooded orioles in her garden. We looked it up and the lady is correct. They are the same bird, the Arizona hooded oriole.

There is, of course, another Marin summer visitor which is a member of the oriole family. It is the Bullock oriole and is the only Marin oriole with a black patch on top of the male bird's head. It, too, is more yellow than its eastern cousin and the female is almost a pale shade of lemon.

Millions For Little Wires To Maybe Free The Freeways

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — One thing leads to another in California, as the state Division of Highways is finding out.

The state has spent millions of dollars building a freeway system to relieve congestion, and now finds that on some parts of the system, congestion is so bad it may be necessary to spend a few more million to relieve the situation.

Gordon C. Luce, state secretary for business and transportation, has outlined a plan titled "An Operational and Experimental Freeway Surveillance and Control System for Los Angeles, which involves planting little wires in freeway pavement to be the basic element in a "sophisticated electronics system designed to monitor constantly a 42-mile section" of the Los Angeles freeway network.

THE WIRES, known as sensors, would combine with other equipment to enable examination of the entire network 60 times each second.

"When traffic slows down or stops," Luce said, "It would sound the alarm and identify the exact location of the bottleneck."

Computers would tell the individuals who man the control stations what to do in the case of traffic stoppage, give exact locations, and thus enable rescue crews to get to the scene in a hurry.

It would cost approximately $725,000 for installation of the basic surveillance system, and $113,000 a year for operational costs, Luce said.

EXTENSIVE surveys have been made by the division of highways to determine what benefits would accrue to the motorist.

"Studies show," Luce said, "that recurrent delay now in effect on the 42-mile system averages 150,000 vehicle minutes per day. The estimated cost, arrived at by placing a value of three cents on each vehicle minute, is $775,000 a year. Non-recurrent delay (caused by accidents) is considered almost identical in length of time and cost."

The survey points out that the total yearly cost of delay on the entire 350-mile freeway system is about $14 million. But there's more.

"Motorist aggravation also has a cost to the motorist," Luce said, stating he can't put a price on the frustrations that plague a driver once he is caught in a bottleneck.

THE SURVEY also points out another benefit which it says would accrue to the motorist. This would be a reduction of accidents, as quicker removal of the causes of congestion would reduce accidents.

All in all, the benefits from the little wires in the highways would be greater than the costs of putting them there, the report states.

But even so, the motorist wonders what comes next after the sensor system?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fusselman Deserves Birthday Honor

Reading the excellent article by Mary Leydecker on Aug. 19 regarding former Supervisor William D. Fusselman made me wonder what could be done to honor him on his 80th birthday.

For many years I have admired and appreciated his excellent service for Marin County, and there must be others whether friend or foe who share my opinion.

Evidently it is difficult for him to leave his home as he apparently does not appear at public meetings, and doubt if he would know me if we passed on the street.

Not having the talent to promote a testimonial dinner or something similar, there must be others who are, or have been leaders in the county who could start something.

It is rarely that a man who has devoted his life to public service and has never ridden the gravy train, reaches his age with very much of this world's goods. Perhaps he will resent this letter, but it is the least we can do for a man who has given unstintingly of himself for 50 years.

Russia Once More Proves Its Perfidy

The invasion of Czechoslovakia will surprise only those who forgot that in 1939, the Russian government signed a pact with Hitler Germany. The Russian army then raped Poland and took over other areas of Eastern Europe as its part of the deal with the Nazis.

To cover its betrayal of the downtrodden and oppressed under the heel of fascism, the Russian government proclaimed that "fascism is a matter of taste." This statement was gleefully publicized by apologists for the brutal fascist dictatorships.

Significantly, the Hitler government never returned the courtesy to proclaim that Communism was a matter of taste. In fact, after the Hitler-Stalin pact served its purpose to secure Eastern Europe while the Nazi armies took over Western Europe, the Hitler regime turned on its Soviet allies and invaded the Soviet Union in 1941.

When the Czech regime decided to liberalize its dictatorship, the Russian government decided to move in with force to clamp the iron lid of dictatorship on the Czech people. Clearly, democracy is not a matter of "taste" for the Russian Soviet leaders. It is instead a threatening example which could inspire the Russian workers and peasants! The cynicism by which the invasion of Czechoslovakia is justified is of a piece with the Russian constitution which proclaims democratic freedoms only to deny them in practice. The Soviet Union has proven again that it is the country of the big lie.

A Newspaper Returns— And Assesses Shutdown

(For nine months, Detroit's daily newspapers were closed by strikes that started with a Teamsters Union walkout at the Detroit News. When they resumed publication recently, the News ran this editorial.)

The Detroit News is glad to be back!

As we say that, we say also that Detroit newspapers cannot, must not, again be closed by a strike. Each of the 267 dreary days of wasteful newspaper blackout has testified to the need for major medication to end the chaotic labor relations that cause the national newspaper sickness.

So, as we say we're glad to be back, we add that we intend to stay back. Ways must be found to restore sanity to union-newspaper relations currently degenerated into a mockery of collective bargaining.

Every mediator recently involved in a newspaper strike — the latest Wisconsin's Dr. Nathan Feinsinger — has emerged to conclude that "something is wrong" in this industry. That's an understatement of a truism recognized by everybody in the newspaper business — including union members.

FOR TOO LONG, in too many cities, signed labor contracts have produced mere interludes between strikes in an industry with limited mechanism to predict a coming shutdown and no machinery to restore peace when multiple unions walk out and then vie with one another as to which will return with the richest settlement.

Such strikes produce no winners. Their consequence has been urban populations deprived of a right to know, market places denied their most effective sales tool, newspapers killed and printing craftsmen sent elsewhere to make a living. . .

WHAT CAN BE DONE? . . .

One reform would take the profit out of strikes. Specifically, a law should bar vulture strike papers profitable to a small number of strikers. Such ventures prolong and exploit strikes for the benefit of a privileged few.

Unions should reduce the power of a simple majority of a single union to strike without advance approval of a majority of a newspaper's employees, or at least of a majority of its union workers.

Unions and management should agree that, while top wages, job security and improved working conditions are the name of the game, such gimmicks as make-work, fictionalized manning needs, fake overtime, opposition to better machinery and union control of supervisors must be outlawed as bargaining table counterfeits.

We repeat:

Detroit needs newspapers every day. Unions and management have a mutual survival interest in this era of increased competition. Workers have a right to bargain for the best possible day's pay for a good day's work. Government mandate is no substitute for collective bargaining.

But we add that newspapers must be prepared to operate despite a strike if that is the only alternative to a process that has killed once-viable papers in a number of cities.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

An upstate farmer, visiting Manhattan for the first time, had been diligently warned about pick-pockets, so he carried about with him a substantial roll of stage money, on the outside of which he put a couple of genuine $10 bills. When he returned to his hotel after his first day of sightseeing, he discovered the roll still tucked safely in his pants pocket — but one slight change had been effected. The two bonafide 10s were conspicuously missing, and in their place was this penciled message: "Thanks, Wise Guy!"

Humphrey Caught In Vortex Of Storm That Splits Party

NEW YORK — The trial by interrogation that Hubert Humphrey has been undergoing, with the indictment of the present read out of his participation in the Vietnam decisions of the past, came to a climax here in New York. He was confronted by the high priests of the liberal establishment sitting as the executive committee of New York's Liberal Party.

It was a difficult assignment. Since the vice president could not and would not repudiate the past, he concentrated on the peace negotiations in Paris and the hope of a cease-fire mutually agreed to bringing an end to all bombing in the north.

When he had finished, several committee members passionately opposed to the war, notably Deputy Mayor Timothy W. Costello, expressed the cruel dilemma that may for Humphrey be impossible to resolve. You made it easier, they said, for us to support you after you're nominated.

But whether a party so divided between northern liberals and southern conservatives — not just alone on the war but on domestic issues as well — can unite to win an election is the question no one can answer. Humphrey makes no secret of his own deep concern over the fractious divisions within his party. He says both publicly and privately that he is confident of winning the nomination, if not on the first ballot as favorite sons take their half-hour on television, then on the second ballot.

What for the vice president has a nightmare quality is the attack on him by most of his onetime liberal allies. They ignore Richard Nixon, their old enemy and the nominee of the Republican party. And they work hard at cutting Humphrey up into such small pieces that it may be impossible, come September, to put the Humphrey who fought for civil rights, for housing, education, Medicare, higher Social Security benefits back together again.

In short, the pre-Vietnam Humphrey will be in ribbons on the cutting room floor. This is a prescription for Nixon to glide into the presidency on an ebb tide of "fed up with it all."

The neutrality in Washington is singularly frustrating for the man who must try to lead his party to triumph in November. His old friends in the struggles to put across social legislation are for the most part silent.

The convention, itself, is the thundercloud on the horizon threatening to split the warring factions of the party beyond redress. Humphrey of his staff wonder in private if it will be possible to recover at all. The insistence of Mayor Richard Daley, abetted by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, on keeping the convention in Chicago may well prove a fatal error.

The picture on the television screens will be one of anarchy, with hippies and yippies vying for the eye of the TV camera. This is tailor made for Nixon. He hardly needs to say, although he undoubtedly will say, "You see, they can't have even a convention without disorder and violence." The contrast with the "harmony" of Miami Beach will be all too evident.

In the eye of the storm Humphrey has regained his old resilience. His 13-day bout with a flu virus a month ago left him depleted and depressed. That is all in the past and today he is working at least 16 hours out of every 24 to make sure of his delegate count and, far more important, to try to quiet the internecine war within the party. He has a smoothly functioning staff prepared to go into a national campaign once Chicago is in the past.

Outwardly he is the Humphrey of unshakable confidence and undauntable vigor. But he cannot shut out of his mind the nightmare of a great party destroying itself in a moment of supreme national torment.

Carmichael Case May Spur Passport Law

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WAHINGTON — The State Department says it is now powerless to withhold passports and thus restrict world travelers such as Stokley Carmichael, the Negro militant who toured Communist countries last year preaching hatred of the United States.

The department says it obtained "written assurance" from Carmichael that he will not use his passport for travel in restricted areas. Then, about a month ago, the department returned the passport it had taken from Carmichael.

The seizure of Carmichael's passport last December was based on the fact that he had visited Cuba and North Vietnam, Communist nations where travel was restricted. The State Department says, however, that its passport powers were subsequently narrowed by a court decision.

That is the explanation given to Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., by William B. Macomber Jr., assistant secretary of state for congressional relations. It was Byrd who first dropped the word last month that Carmichael's passport had been quietly returned.

BYRD, commenting on the explanation supplied him by the State Department, said "it appears that neither the Justice Department nor the Department of State is willing to come to grips with Carmichael."

In his letter, Macomber referred to a case decided in the U.S. Court of Appeals here last December. The court held that the State Department had no authority to prohibit a citizen's overseas travel by withholding a passport. It said the department's power was limited to controlling the use of the passport.

In the letter of explanation, Macomber quoted an earlier passport ruling of the Supreme Court that restrictions on a citizen's freedom of travel must be "pursuant to the law-making functions of the Congress."

PERHAPS the Carmichael case, and the controversy which it has provoked, will prod Congress into ending its 10-year impasse over such travel restriction. The State Department's most recent proposals, in that regard, were submitted to Congress last December.

The department sent Congress a bill which would permit passport restrictions on travel to nations at war, nations beset by insurrection, or nations whose military forces were engaged in armed conflict against the United States. The bill would also let the secretary restrict travel in the national interest when such travel would seriously impair the conduct of U.S. foreign policy.

Travel to restricted areas, with or without a passport would be punishable, under the department's proposals, by a year in jail, a $1,000 fine, or both.

Similar proposals have been pending in Congress more or less constantly for about 10 years. They have been stalled because some congressional leaders have favored tighter travel restrictions and some have wanted to have restrictions relaxed.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., introduced the new State Department proposals in the Senate last December, stating that he was acting at the department's request and that he was not committed to support the restrictions. A subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee was named to consider them.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, held hearings in February. That is where the

Commute Tax Raises Wrath, But Points Up Genuine Problem

That great Italian, Mayor Joseph Alioto, has put nearly everyone in Marin County in a flap over his commuter tax.

Condemnation of the one per cent tax has been widespread throughout Marin, but there have been a few whose reaction has not been the boycott and brown bag.

WHILE VOTING unanimously to oppose the tax, the Mill Valley City Council Monday night showed some sensitivity to the issue. Two councilmen, Robert A. Andresen and George Wickham, opposed the tax without question. Jerome C. Hauke, taking the flap in a much lighter vein, said he'd go along with the gang if that's what they wanted but that as far as he was concerned the whole thing was not to be taken seriously. It's just a good ploy by Alioto to score points with his property tax paying constitutents, said Hauke.

But it was Mayor Dean N. Meyer who made the most pointed comments.

The issue, said Meyer, is not whether the commuter wears out the streets or seats on the muni line but rather his responsibility to the problems of the central city.

Meyer indicated that if Alioto would allocate the tax to solving the problems of the core city — slum housing, jobs, recreation, blight, education — he would be happy to pay his one per cent and more.

However, Meyer said, for Alioto to use the money to offset the burden of the land-owning San Francisco resident is a different matter, and grossly unfair to the Marin resident-commuter who is no more privileged than his San Francisco counterpart.

THE URBAN dweller, when he becomes affluent, usually runs to suburbia to escape the decay of the inner city. Yet, when he flees, he can't leave his responsibilities behind in the city.

The central city, such as San Francisco, is the economic hub for the satellites of suburbia which surround it. Thus comes the responsibility to help out, much as the older child who has fled home still helps out the large and overburdened family left behind.

One way to attack this problem, without taxing only one small group might be through a regional government, one with a somewhat greater scope than the limited-purpose government now under consideration in the state Legislature.

Deep, Dark Plot In Chicago: How To Escape Convention

CHICAGO — There have been so many security precautions taken for the Democratic national convention near the stockyards in Chicago that the big fear here is not that people will be unable to get into the convention hall, but that they will not be able to get out. And so all the talk in Chicago concerns escape.

Four delegates were in the exercise yard at the stockyards pretending they were playing volleyball. Armed guards watched them from the towers and police dogs patrolled the electric and barbed-wire fence around the hall.

"IT'S NO USE," said Hymie from Idaho. "We'll never be able to break out of here."

"Shut up," said San Fernando Joe. "There isn't a convention hall in the country that can hold me."

"You've never been in one of Warden Daley's lockups," said Peoria Pete. "No one has ever escaped from one of his halls, at least not before the nominations."

"I say we tunnel out of here," said Colorado Charlie. "Listen, there's an air shaft under the speaker's podium, and we could dig at night during the credentials fight. No one would hear us."

"Yeah," said Hymie, "but where do we put the dirt?"

"Where the press is sitting. No one would notice it there."

"It's no good. One of the TV cameras might catch us, and they'd have the National Guard on us before you could say John Bailey."

"I'M ONLY an alternate delegate," cried Peoria Pete. "I want to do my time and walk out through the gate instead of going over the wall."

"Knock it off, Pete," said San Fernando Joe angrily. "You're into this too deep to back out now. Another word out of you and I'll shove this Gene McCarthy banner down your throat."

"Keep playing volleyball. Daley's guards are getting suspicious."

"But," Hymie said, after serving, "wh t's our plan?"

COLORADO CHARLIE pretended he was tying his shoe. "President Johnson's birthday is on the 27th, and everyone will be celebrating it in the hall. The guards will probably have a party of their own, and there will only be a skeleton crew in the towers. We'll go to the hall and sit in our delegates' seats and pretend we're having good time. Then, when everyone stands up to sing 'Happy Birthday Dear Lyndon,' we make a break for it — out the back door."

"Yeah, right into the arms of the Secret Service."

Colorado Charlie said, "Shut up and listen. On our way out we grab the Ohio delegation and hold them as hostages. Hubert Humphrey can't win without Ohio. He'll have to tell Warden Daley to let us go."

"IT MIGHT WORK," said San Fernanco Joe. "Anything is better than staying here and listening to those seconding speeches."

Colorado Joe started tying his other shoe. "It has to work. My wife is visiting me this afternoon, and she's going to bring me some 'McGovern for President' baloons. In one of the balloons there's going to be a hack saw. As soon as we get outside, Pete will cut the electric cable and Hymie will drive a CBS-TV truck next to the wall. That's how we go over."

"But what do we do for a getaway car?"

"We're next to the stockyards, dummy. While they're blocking all the highways, we'll be on a freight train to Austin, Tex., underneath a ton of pork sausages."

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Hire At The Top (In Shorthand) To Preserve The Palace Guard

Fusselman

"DIR. CMHS, Per. Dir. concurring, req. auth. upper step offer to candidate for Psychiatic Social WORKER II position." . . . Do you dig?

That was the gobbledy-gook for item No. 43 on Tuesday,'s agenda, Marin County Board of Supervisors' agenda, another sample of the elegant (?) operation of the department you are paying for — the department whose head "command," alone, gets $26,000 a year (marked down to $25,956) you save $44) while his two chief field commanders receive $19,368 and $19,068 respectively.

The "Per. Dir.," who is doing the concurring, is the same high priced personnel director who was noted for his waste basket inspection during October of '66. He also is another lieutenant commander of the administrator.

ONE CANNOT HELP but wonder if this shorthanding an item is so that those of the public who receive copies of the agenda might not be alerted to the proposal to pay the top scale as a starting salary. I don't know — could be.

This is the same sort of maneuver that was used in hiring the planning director of economical development in '66, as well as the manager of the Marin Transit District last year.

It's all in line with the grand manner of county administrator government operation, which Behr (Supervisor Peter H.) has maneuvered to prevent you from voting on again, after the 1958 failure to carry by a 60 per cent "no" vote. Now, he is quoted as saying he had signed the gun referendum petition as he "believed in getting the will of the people in the matter." Oh yea?

It seems to me that there should be a full legal explanation given to voters as to why and how the folks in the cities can vote on a matter that will not affect them at all, but just those in the unincorporated areas. You know a person cannot vote on a school matter if he doesn't live in the district. As I asked last week, if the city vote was contrary to the rural vote, what would Behr and company do then?

I SAW AN interesting article in a county weekly recently. The first paragraph went like this: "The possibility that Marin may be losing its population to the East Bay when the BART system is completed was suggested Monday as County Administrator Paul C. Zucker spoke tothe county planning commission on the definition and scope of city-county cooperative planning." Calling Planning Director Zucker the county administrator is understandable.

You may recall that many months ago I called attention to the game of upmanship that was going on between Zucker and Bruce.

Zucker is reported to have said that fast transportation to San Francisco may induce commuters to "chuck the mess on Highway 101 and the Golden Gate Bridge for the fast, easy, comfortable rapid transit of the East Bay." He is also quoted as saying that already there is development going on in the areas around the BART stations, which are attracting commuters fed up with the traffic jams.

And this is the man to whom was assigned the job of coming up with a "balanced transportation study." He was going to get ideas from everyone and feed it into the computer for an answer. (Just awhile back Planning Commissioner Walter Freitas charged Zucker with dragging his feet with a restudy on population density out in West Marin, and it isn't the first time it has been necessary to prod him on that.)

Have you heard any rumblings of activity on his part in the preparation of food for George the computer? I haven't either.

That $3 Bill Is Rarest One Ever Made

The rare 1880 $3 bill reported stolen from a Homestead Valley home sometime Tuesday night was indeed unusual.

The U.S. didn't issue such a bill, according to Mrs. Ovid A. McHorse of Mack's Coins and Stamps in Town and Country Village at Strawberry.

The theft was reported Wednesday by Richard M. Christiansen of 206 Evergreen Drive.

Mrs. McHorse said she had never heard of a $3 bill except in jokes, but checked catalogues to make sure. No $3 bill is listed, she reported.

Labor Council Endorsement Postponed

The Marin County Labor Council postponed endorsement of candidates for the Seventh Assembly District and the Third Supervisorial District Wednesday after listening to only two of the nominees.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, spoke to the council as did Michael Wornum of Mill Valley, supervisorial candidate, but their opponents were out of town. Running against Bagley is Democrat Robert E. Mertle of San Rafael and Wornum's opponent is Donald J. O'Leary of Tiburon.

The council has already endorsed Thomas T. Storer, incumbent supervisor from the Fourth District who is opposed by Louis H. Baar.

The council also discussed plans for a testimonial dinner for long-time Marin labor leader George R. Scott which will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 4 at Lin Fa Gardens in Terra Linda.
